B.C. Gets First Word From Queen

A portrait study of Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth, and the Duke of Edinburgh in drawing room at Clarence House is shown as court mourning ends. At the same time, Mrs. Nancy Hodges, former Speaker of the Legislative Assembly received the B.C. government's first communication from the Queen who will celebrate her "official" birthday next Monday. Written by Her Majesty's private secretary it is an acknowledgment of the government's message of sympathy on the death of King George VI. "Her Majesty greatly appreciates the assurance of the loyalty and devotion of the Legislative Council of British Columbia on the occasion of her Accession," the secretary wrote. In the above command portrait by Baron, Her Majesty is wearing a smoke-grey tulle and lace ball dress, needlerun with silver thread. The sapphire and diamond necklace was a wedding present from H.M. The King. The diamond tiara was a wedding present from H.M. Queen Mary and the diamond bracelet, a wedding present from the Duke of Edinburgh. His Royal Highness is wearing the mess dress of the Royal Navy with the sash and insignia of the Order of the Garter.

650,000 'Freed' U.S. Steelworkers on Strike

Supreme Court Hands Down Historic Decision

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled 6 to 3 today that President Truman's seizure of the steel industry was unconstitutional. Within minutes C.I.O. president, Philip Murray, called a country-wide strike of his 650,000 steelworkers.

In a historic decision striking down hard Truman's claim to vast inherent power under the constitution, the high court upheld the ruling of Judge David A. Pine that Truman acted illegally in seizing the steel mills April 8, to head off a strike.

This meant the government must obey Pine's order to turn the mills back to their owners.

It also meant the Truman administration could not carry through its promise of a wage increase to the steel workers while the mills were under government ownership.

Today's high court decision was written by Justice Hugo Black. Chief Justice Fred Vinson and Justice Stanley Reed and Sherman Minto dissented.

Black said for the court majority:

"The President's power to issue the (seizure) order must stem either from an act of Congress or from the Constitution itself.

"There is no statute that expressly authorizes the President to take possession of property as he did here.

"Nor is there any act of Congress to which our attention has been directed from which such a power can fairly be implied."

In issuing his strike call today, Murray at the same time asked the steel companies to resume collective bargaining.

But Murray also made clear that the union still stands on the terms of the wage stabilization board recommendations of a 26-cents-an-hour "package" settlement, plus a union shop arrangement. He said:

"In the absence of a wage agreement our members have no alternative other than to cease work."

Power Belongs to Congress

Murray authorized local union officers to make "satisfactory arrangements for standby employees to protect the properties of the various companies during the period of stoppage."

Today's decision was of overriding importance in the controversy—as old as the United States republic itself—over how great are the powers of the presidency.

Truman has repeatedly claimed he has inherent power under the constitution to seize a private industry, or take a wide variety of other actions, to safeguard the welfare of the country in time of national emergency.

The court said firmly, however, that this power belongs to Congress and not to the President—either as the civilian head of the government or as commander-in-chief of the armed forces.

The government was expected to notify the owners of the steel mills later this afternoon that it is turning the properties back to them.

In addition to the majority opinion by Black, separate concurring opinions were written by Justice Frank Frankfurter, William Douglas, Tom Clark, Robert Jackson and Harold Burton.

Black's opinion said Truman's April 8 order for seizure of the industry "cannot properly be sustained as an exercise of the President's military power as commander-in-chief of the armed forces."

He added:

"Nor can the seizure order be sustained because of the several constitutional provisions that grant executive power to the President."

"In the framework of our constitution," Black said, "the President's power to see that the laws are faithfully executed refutes the idea that he is to be a lawmaker."

Truman told his press conference May 22 he would abide by the court's ruling and would turn the mills back to their owners and then see what happens.

At the same time, however, Truman still insisted he has the inherent power to seize private industries in an emergency and that nobody—neither Congress nor the courts—can take that power away from him.

As to what we would do if the high tribunal ruled that Truman has no seizure power—as it did today—Truman said he would cross that bridge when he came to it.

Black's opinion said:

"The Constitution limits his (the President's) function in the lawmaking process to the recommending of laws he thinks wise and the vetoing of laws he thinks bad. And the Constitution is neither silent nor equivocal about who shall make laws which the President is to execute."

Black said the power of Congress to adopt "such public policies as those proclaimed by the President's order is beyond question." He added:

"It can authorize the taking of private property for public use. It can make laws regulating the relationships between employees and employers, prescribing rules designed to settle labor disputes and fixing wages and working conditions in certain fields of our economy. The Constitution did not subject this law-making power of Congress to presidential or military supervision or control.

FATHER DIES IN EFFORT TO SAVE CHILD

Four Deaths Mar Island Week-End

Three drownings and a fatal highway crash marred the week-end on Vancouver Island.

Dead are Ernest Major, Port Alberni, and his three-year-old daughter, Rose Marie, who drowned Sunday when their boat struck a submerged log in the Alberni Canal, and Prestdun Walton McNeil, 25, killed on the highway near Nanaimo.

The body of a 45-year-old woman who died by drowning was found in the Gorge near Lotus Street at 10.15 a.m. Sunday, city police reported. They said it was a case of suicide.

STRUCK LOG

The Alberni tragedy occurred when Major, his wife and daughter were thrown into the water as their boat sank immediately after striking the log.

Mrs. Major saw her husband swimming with the little girl on his shoulders, and carried on to shore. When she arrived the other two had vanished.

Two fishermen, Kelly and William Sport, noticed floating oil drums in the water, and on investigating found the body of the little girl. They took her to shore, where they found Mrs. Major, but were not able to revive the child.

A search continued today for Major, operator of a small logging company at Mens Island.

The accident occurred in Hell's Gate, about 15 miles down the canal from Port Alberni.

An inquiry will be held.

McNeil died when the truck in which he and two companions were returning to their pulp mill jobs from Nanaimo plunged off the highway, struck two telephone poles, and finally upset in a ditch.

Shaken up were Stanley Holmes and Vincent McMillan.

FIERY OBJECT FROM SKY JARS WHITE ROCK PEOPLE

WHITE ROCK, B.C., June 2 (BUP)—A flaming object that roared across the sky and crashed into the Strait of Georgia near White Rock, B.C. Sunday night was believed to have been a meteor by residents of the district.

The object struck the water with an ear-splitting explosion and shattered windows in the area.

Two Great Northern Railway employees in the station at White Rock were thrown from their chairs as the explosion rocked the area.

Residents described it as glowing and moving at tremendous speed.

Four days ago, another object, said to be a meteor, played tag with a T.C.A. plane approaching Vancouver and then plummeted to earth in the Pitt Lake area northeast of the city.

HIGH HONOR FOR 'ROCKY'

Soviet Zone Sealed Off to West Berliners

BERLIN, June 2 (Reuters).—Berlin was sealed off from the surrounding Soviet zone today, at least so far as West Berliners were concerned, but the closure seemed to operate on a hit-or-miss basis.

Traffic between East and West Berlin was unaffected but the usual number of West Berliners entering the surrounding zone of Germany was stopped completely.

Traffic between the city and West Germany, via three highways, also was normal, except that Allied highway patrols were stopped at the frontier.

The sealing off of Berlin is part of the Soviet's announced plan to cut movement to East Germany from the West to a minimum in retaliation for West Germany's new links with the Allies.

The entire 600-mile frontier has been closed to West Germans except those holding special passes.

Admiral Says Reds Killed 15,000,000

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Retired Admiral Charles M. Cooke, Jr., quotes Nationalist Chinese sources as saying ruthless Communist purges on the China mainland have taken 15,000,000 lives.

The admiral, who recently returned from two years as technical adviser to the Nationalists on Formosa, said the Communists have executed 1,000,000 of Chiang Kai-Shek's guerrillas in the last 14 months.

Cooke, in an interview in the magazine U.S. News and World report, said the purges had reduced the number of active guerrillas to about 500,000.

The admiral said the United States should help Chiang recapture the mainland.

Ballot Contest Count Tuesday

Counting of ballots in the Times alternative voting contest will begin tomorrow.

This will give time for entries posted from up-island points Sunday night to be included for the prize.

Result of the first count will be announced in Wednesday's paper with a description of how it is done. Subsequent counts will be reported the following days.

P.O.W.'s MUST OBEY ORDERS

U.S. Tanks, Troops Take Over on Koje

KOJE ISLAND, Korea, June 2 (AP)—United States tanks and infantrymen today battered down and burned Communist flags and banners in two Red prisoner-of-war compounds, and a South Korean officer shot and wounded a P.O.W. for taunting them.

The United Nations' supreme commander, Gen. Mark Clark, visited this riotous island and declared: "The maximum amount of force necessary will be used to make rebellious prisoners obey orders." He said Communist truce negotiators at Panmunjom had "directed the uprising here and the disobedience" of P.O.W.'s.

The prisoner was shot behind a double barbed-wire of compound 60, which holds some 20 men accused of war crimes.

Fellow-prisoners carried him, bleeding, into a tin shack inside the compound. U.S. doctors demanded he be given up for medical care.

In answer the Reds sang songs and shouted anti-American slogans under the urging of a cheer leader.

The shooting took place just after the inmates of compound 60, smallest of the 17 occupied enclosures of Koje, had stoned and shouted insults at a passing column of South Korean soldiers.

Eye-witnesses said the South Korean officer, goaded beyond control, fired three shots from a .45-calibre pistol. One bullet hit the P.O.W. in the leg.

The compound returned to normal 20 minutes later. The prisoners still held their wounded comrade. The U.S. medical crew left.

Koje's compounds were quiet tonight after the U.N. show of force today with tanks and a company of infantry. Only three compounds flew Red banners at sundown, against the camp commander's orders.

Two tanks butted down a flagpole in compound 602 while foot soldiers ripped down insulting banners and set them afire. That operation was carried out in an almost-eerie silence.

Ike Prepares To Make His Army Farewell

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, soldier turning politician, was here today to say farewell to arms.

Behind him were 37 years as an army officer, including two periods as supreme commander of all the armies of the west in Europe.

Before him looms one of the roughest and most bitter political campaigns in recent history, over the Republican presidential nomination which Senator Robert A. Taft and others are seeking.

Sunday the general stood by the plane which brought him from Paris, smiling in the warmth of a summer sun and a military welcome for a great soldier come home. Tuesday afternoon he will be faced with the cold facts of political life.

That is when he has said he will doff his uniform. He makes his first speech in mufti at Abilene, Kan., Wednesday.

Small Voice of Big Experience

Three-year-old Sheila Benning of 1056 Amphion, warns brother Alvin, 7, of the perils of playing near water-filled excavations. Little girl was pulled from two feet of water in partially-constructed house on Amphion after she fell in Sunday evening. Seven-year-old Maureen Seguin, 1057 Redfern, pulled Sheila out of water—youngster suffered only minor cuts from nail on board. Her mother said today neighbors have tried in past to get excavation boarded up but to no avail. Said Sheila: "I fall right down in water . . . I float." (Times Photo.)

ON THE TIMES

By ART STOTT

At the corner of our house a double white lilac is in bloom. The blossoms were a little late this year, but now they're near perfection. The clusters of flowers are profuse and from them comes a delicate fragrance. As far as double white lilac goes, it's a pretty good bush.

I'd rather have the deep purple, myself. The scent is a little stronger and I like the color better. Still, I can look at the double white lilac, appreciate its beauty and breathe in its perfume.

Stott

It makes me very happy—not just for myself but for a man called V.V.M., who writes for the Winnipeg Tribune and who nourishes tender illusions of Winnipeg's beauties. If anyone writes or comments on the attractiveness of Victoria, V.V.M. sits down at his typewriter and rattles off "You ought to smell Winnipeg's lilacs." It gets a bit repetitious, it's true. But if that's Winnipeg's one claim to fragrance, who's to blame him.

Nor is V.V.M. alone in his love for that scent. He quotes a Mrs. A.G. of Victoria, B.C., who supported him in a little exchange of pleasantries between the Victoria Times and the Trib. on the relative attractions of our capital and that of Manitoba. "After 20 years," wrote Mrs. A.G. to V.V.M., "I still think of the lilacs in Manitoba." And Mrs. A.G. mentions the aroma that comes from Victoria beaches when the garbage floats back. I join her and a lot of other Victorians in complaint over the return of refuse and the low-tide smell beside the Causeway.

Coyly Anonymous

But I wish Winnipeg columnists and their supporting contributors wouldn't hide their identities behind initials. Why should they struggle toward anonymity when they write pleasantly of the scent of lilac? It's a lovely fragrance. They don't need to be ashamed to admit it.

Why, even our lilac, which is just one of the blooms in which we take pride, is marvelous. They tell me, too, that the Viennese and French feel much the same way about theirs. There's no reason why Mrs. A.G. and V.V.M. should be bashful. They ought to stand up and be counted when they sing their songs of lilac time. It would be grand if there were other things about which they showed pride in Winnipeg, too.

It wouldn't hurt a bit if they were to dash off a line or two about the Winnipeg ballet that won the hearts of Victorians. And they could afford to grow a little lyrical about the brand of hockey players they make there.

But why they should want to put on their armor and climb onto their war horses to champion Winnipeg scenery and climate in the lists against Victoria passeth understanding. Maybe it's that family reaction which rallies the clan to the stoutest defense of its weakest members. It might be a bit quixotic, but you can't help liking folk for that behaviour. You can see a sort of Rob Roy spirit in the thing—"My foot is on my native heath—and I can't get it out of the gumbo."

I'd Rather See Venice and Die

V.V.M., who thinks I have rocks in my head, and could be right, and who discounts any impressions I may have acquired on a week's visit to Winnipeg, offers me the warm hand of hospitality.

"So, all I want to say to Mr. Stott is," he writes, "if you want to find out how Manitoba compares with Vancouver Island, come out and take a real look around."

I'm not being caddish about the thing when I decline. I tried it once and didn't like it.

Then, too, a couple of friends of mine passed through Winnipeg the other day, got off the train to look around, met warm-hearted, generous people and a downtown Winnipeg dust storm. When they climbed back aboard the train they were able to wash off most of the prairie city's real estate, but the young lady needed a doctor to take a Winnipeg cinder from her eye.

As she underwent the operation, she was paraphrasing Rupert Brooke in a soft murmur: "If I should die, think only this of me, that there is some corner of an inflamed eye that is forever Winnipeg."

Thanks all the same, V.V.M. Once before I came, I saw and I got out. The people were swell, but . . .

Singapore Labor Party Moves to Aid Rubber Mart Slump

SINGAPORE, June 2 (Reuters). — The Singapore Labor Party has decided to ask Britain to export Malayan rubber to China and Russia to prevent a slump in Malaya.

A resolution to this effect was adopted by the party's general council Sunday. Peter Williams, its sponsor, said: "The only remedy to a sudden and persistent drop in the price of rubber lies in an extended market."

Williams said the policy of restricting exports to certain countries "has resulted in America obtaining a monopoly position in the buying of rubber, which, coupled with her ability to produce synthetic rubber, reacts adversely to the interests of rubber-producing countries."

Blustery Red General Tones Down Speech

MUNSAN, Korea, June 2 (AP) —Blustery Gen. Nam Il, chief Red delegate at Korean armistice talks, toned down his voice today as he railed again at Allied handling of Communist prisoner riots on Koje Island.

But calm, quiet Maj.-Gen. William K. Harrison, head United Nations' command negotiator, said "I have no idea that it has any significance at all."

The Red chieftain used milder tones in repeating his charges that the Allies are slaughtering Red prisoners on Koje and are planning to retain permanently other Communist captives.

Whatever the meaning of the change in attitude, Harrison said the Communist negotiators today "didn't act like they were made at anybody."

There was no progress in the 26-minute session.

FAITH KEY TO CONQUEST

God's Help for Him Who Asks It

(This is the first of a series of four condensations of sermons by the Rev. Moir A. J. Waters, delivered at First United Church Sunday evening. His three subsequent sermons will appear in brief paraphrase in The Times. Here he discusses some of the things a Christian can learn from the principles and practices of members of Alcoholics Anonymous.)

The application of the Alcoholics Anonymous program has already helped over 100,000 frustrated and unhappy men and women into contented sobriety. These miracles can be accomplished in the face of all or any besetting sins. The 12 steps of the alcoholic in his quest for a cure are applicable in any crisis.

These steps are based on a knowledge of human nature and its deep need of God.

This prayer may be the beginning of a new life:

"God, I offer myself to Thee—to build with me and do with me as Thou wilt. Relieve me of the bondage of self, that I may better do Thy will. Take away my difficulties, that the victory over them may bear witness to those I would help of Thy power, Thy love, and Thy way of life. May I do Thy will always."

That is a prayer of the alcoholic.

Man needs fellowship, particularly when he is fighting against heavy odds.

When an individual admits the need for help in the fight against evil he has taken the first step toward conquest. But that help should be clearly available to him, otherwise he reaches the depths of loneliness and despair.

Faith is a first requisite in this moral battle, faith that a power greater than self is an ally. For those who turn to God, the power to brace the will in conflict can be found. Faith is an all-important element in the alliance against evil.

Let the church continue to teach great fundamental truths of the Christian faith so that each church member is able "to give a reason for the faith that is in him."

U.N. Tanks Take Toll of Enemy Dead

SEOUL, Korea, June 2 (AP)—United Nations' tanks today smashed into Communist positions on the Korea central front, blasting 48 Red bunkers.

A United States Eighth Army officer said the bunker-blasting activities left 15 Chinese dead and 49 wounded.

Long-range U.N. artillery shelled Communist truck convoys at least eight miles behind Red front-line positions for 6½ hours Sunday night and early today. Results could not be determined because of darkness.

The artillery fire was directed by night-flying spotter planes.

The Fifth Air Force said that during May it lost 45 planes over North Korea while destroying 39 Communist planes. Only nine Allied planes were lost in aerial combat. The Reds lost 32 Mig-15 jet fighters and two propeller-driven fighters in air scraps. Five Red planes were destroyed on the ground.

HAUL—In Kansas City three holdup men took diamonds and furs valued at $81,400 and $500 cash from the home of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Burnett Sunday night.

Mrs. Burnett is the former Miss Marcelina Pendergast, daughter of the late T. J. Pendergast. The home where the hold-up occurred was the residence of the Democratic faction leader many years.

"GHOST"—In Egypt a "ghost" train without crew or passengers raced 30 miles to Cairo's railroad yards Sunday night, where workmen scrambled aboard and stopped it in time to avert a smash-up.

Officials said the freight train was undergoing a final check-up when it pulled out of a station under its own power.

All traffic on the line to Cairo was diverted. The train reached speeds of 40 miles an hour.

PARACHUTE—In El Centro, Calif., six tons of lead and cement floated to the ground Sunday in the world's largest parachute, which had been dropped from a flying boxcar at 2,300 feet.

Parachute experts at the El Centro naval air station are testing the big umbrella's ability to drop heavy military equipment.

Officials theorize, however, that smaller chutes or clusters of them will probably prove more practical than the big one.

The chute is made of three-quarters of an acre of nylon and is 200 feet in diameter. When packed it is tall as a man.

AVENGED—In London, Don Gehrmann of the United States edged out Bill Nankeville of England by a yard in a thrilling 1,000-yard international race today before 35,000 fans at the British Whitsuntide holiday track and field games.

Gehrmann was clocked in 2.11 flat. His victory made amends for his defeat Saturday in the first half of the games when Nankeville won the 1,500 metres in 3:49. Gehrmann was third in the metric mile.

FOUND—In Monroe, Wash., two young fishermen Sunday found the body of a Seattle university student who was lost two weeks ago in an ill-fated attempt to ride the swollen Skykomish River on a life raft.

State Patrolman Mike Laizure said the body of 20-year-old Bob Christy was found snagged on a tree about 20 miles downstream from where the raft overturned.

GRATUITIES—In Montreal the Canadian Bankers Association announced today it has purchased life annuities for the widows of two Montreal policemen who lost their lives in a bank hold-up here in September, 1948.

The policemen, Nelson Paquin and Paul Emile Duranleau, were shot and killed when a branch of La Banque Canadienne Nationale was held up by three armed robbers. Noel Cloutier, Donald Perrault and Douglas Perrault. All three since have been hanged for murder.

The annuities, purchased at a total cost of $12,444, will supplement pensions voted the widows by the city of Montreal and contributions they received from the Montreal Police Benevolent and Pension Fund.

AWAY—In Bagotville, Que., five flights of F-86 Sabre jets took off today for Goose Bay, Labrador, on the second stage of their trans-Atlantic hop from Ottawa to Atlantic pact defense bases in Britain.

The 20 aircraft arrived from Ottawa Friday and were grounded during the week-end because of bad weather.

NOTES—Iran sent new notes to Britain and Iraq today, restating her claims to the oil-rich Bahrein Islands.

Britain and Iraq already have rejected Iran's claims to the group of islands, a Persian Gulf sheikdom under British protection since 1820.

Informed sources said the latest Iranian communication in turn rejected the British contention that the islands are an independent sheikdom.

Confirmed—In Panmunjom a Communist correspondent today said he had seen photographs which confirm the death of Maj. George Davis, Jr., top United States jet ace shot down last Feb. 10.

Alan Winnington of the London Daily Worker told Allied reporters he saw "within the last day or two" photographs of Davis' body, his identification tag, his pistol and his crashed jet. The pictures appeared in the Communist Chinese-language publication "Liberation Army Pictorial."

RETURNED—Prime Minister Dudley Senanayake, whose United National Party was re-Confirmed—In Panmunjom a Ceylon's first general elections since the island achieved Dominion status in 1947, today presented his cabinet for swearing in by Governor-General Lord Soulbury.

Senanayake retains the ministries of defense and external affairs. His party won 54 of the 95 elected seats in the House of Representatives. Six seats are reserved for minority communities and it is likely the government will nominate to them three Ceylon Indians, two Europeans and one Eurasian.

Korea Politics Worry Clark

General Asks and Gets Rhee's Assurance That Current Crisis Will Not Interfere With War

PUSAN, Korea, June 2 (AP)—Gen. Clark today told President Syngman Rhee he hoped the South Korean political crisis "would not interfere with the military situation."

Said in a statement that he had assured the United Nations' Far East commander there would be no removal of troops from the Korean battle front because of the political crisis.

The president threw Korean politics into an uproar May 24 when he proclaimed martial law around Pusan, the provisional capital. Since then 12 national assemblymen have been arrested.

The legislative body is due to elect a president late this month.

Clark and Gen. James A. Van Fleet, United States Eighth Army commander, conferred with officials of the U.N. commission for unification and rehabilitation of Korea before meeting with Rhee for 35 minutes.

U.N.C.U.R.K. had urged Rhee to lift martial law and free the jailed assemblymen. Rhee wrote the commission but ignored the two requests. He said he was trying to put down a revolt by Communist elements—not seize more power.

U.N. sources expressed the opinion that the charges on a Red plot are merely window dressing so Rhee can control election of a president.

The government appeared ready to close the assembly by force if it doesn't do as Rhee wants. Between 500 and 600 national police have arrived from other parts of Korea—ostensibly to attend a convention.

Clark and Van Fleet flew to Koje Island later for Clark's first visit to the tense U.N. prisoner-of-war camp.

Miss Noel A. M. Smith was elected president of the Victoria Branch of B.C. Registered Music Teachers' Association at the annual meeting in the Y.W.C.A.

Others elected were: Miss Corinne D Val, vice-president; Mrs. E. Holtsman, recording secretary; Miss Margery Vaughan, corresponding secretary; Miss Mary Adamson, treasurer.

Named to the executive were: Miss Hlen Gibson, Miss Marjorie Tebo, Reginald Cox and Charles Palmer.

Miss Una Calvert, retiring president, lauded a recent round-table discussion undertaken by a widely representative group.

Ontario Woman Dead, Victim Of Shooting

GALT, Ont., June 2 (CP)—Victim of a mystery shooting, Mrs. Charles Rosenblatt of Hamilton died of gunshot wounds early today in an automobile near here.

Harry A. Lee of Hamilton, driver of the car, is in hospital with severe bullet wounds in the chest.

Lee told police he picked up Mrs. Rosenblatt here and was driving her to Hamilton when their car was stopped by two gunmen who shot them.

Operators of a cycle shop at Sheffield, three miles southeast of here, said Lee drove up and shouted "My wife's dead—I'm shot."

Mrs. Rosenblatt, 38-year-old mother of two children, was lying across the front seat, bleeding profusely from a bullet wound in the head. Police found a 22-calibre rifle on the junk-littered back seat.

Police said they were unable to establish where the shootings occurred but added that Lee could not have driven far with his severe wounds.

489 VIOLENT DEATHS IN U.S. OVER LONG HOLIDAY

CHICAGO, June 2 (AP)—Mounting returns on the Memorial Day week-end death toll from highway crashes in the United States skyrocketed today to a record for the extended holiday.

At least 353 persons died during the three-day holiday. This was two more than were killed during the four-day Memorial Day holiday of 1950 when the previous record of 347 was recorded.

The National Safety Council had predicted this year's loss of lives during the 78-hour period from 6 p.m. Thursday until midnight Sunday would reach 310.

Other forms of violent deaths including 81 drownings and 62 in a variety of accidents made the holiday toll this year at least 489. There are no authoritative comparisons for the overall traffic-drowning-miscellaneous total.

JOLTED CALIFORNIANS

Atomic Blast Fails To Bother Nevadans

LAS VEGAS, Nev., June 2 (AP)—A strong atomic blast, old hat to atom-weary citizens of Las Vegas, jolted and excited residents over wide areas of northern and southern California early Sunday.

An atmospheric quirk bounced the bomb's brilliant flash and sound 400 miles over mountains and into California from the Yucca Flat test site.

Two thuds loud enough to awaken residents and rattle windows were heard in Modesto, Calif., 350 miles from the blast, reported city editor Otto Schroder of the Modesto Bee.

In San Francisco, a radio news writer, Ed Arnow was driving to work when he saw a brief flash of light covering the sky.

But to the citizens of Las Vegas, who have grown accustomed to living under the shadow of atomic clouds, there was no excitement. The flash was seen but barely heard in the city, 75 miles away.

One thousand troops watched from foxholes about 7,000 yards from the explosion. They jumped from their positions 20 seconds after the detonation and moved "very close" to the firing area behind tanks and army radiological safety monitors.

Sunday's was the seventh shot in the spring series, which is not yet ended.

Rockingham Given C.B. For Korean Leadership

OTTAWA, June 2 (CP).—Brig. J. M. Rockingham, who commanded the 25th Infantry Brigade during the first year of the Korean war, today was appointed a Companion of the Order of the Bath by Queen Elizabeth.

The citation said the award was made for "coolness in action, great loyalty and skilful leading" of the 25th Brigade which he raised in August, 1950, and took to Korea in May, 1951.

"He has carried a far greater responsibility than a normal infantry brigade commander and has carried it with outstanding success," the citation said.

Brig. Rockingham, 40, commanded the 25th Brigade until April of this year. He returned to Canada early last month to take up a new appointment as director-general of military training at army headquarters here. He was succeeded in Korea by Brig. J. P. (Pat) Bogert.

The award is the first C.B. to go to a Canadian for action in the Korean war. Brig. Rockingham already is a Companion of the Order of the British Empire and holds two Distinguished Service Orders.

A Companion of the Order of the Bath ranks third in the order, following the Knights Grand Cross and the Knights Commanders. Appointments are granted in both military and civilian ranks. The order was founded in 1725 by King George I.

The companion's medal is formed by a white Maltese cross and four lions and hung by a crimson ribbon. The decoration has precedence over all others worn by Brig. Rockingham. The ribbon is worn on the top row towards the centre of the tunic.

The Doctrine Of Mrs. Steeves

IN HER USUAL HIT-AND-RUN fashion the ingenious Mrs. Dorothy Steeves tells a Victoria audience that a C.C.F. government would not discourage investment in British Columbia but would make investors pay through the nose for the privilege of developing our resources. This sounds fine until the C.C.F. policy is analyzed.

In the first place, Mrs. Steeves is quite wrong in assuming that investment will come here anyway, because our resources are so rich, no matter how the government treats it. The C.C.F. government of Saskatchewan has learned better. Its threat to expropriate any industry it pleased long restricted investment until the Douglas government, quietly repudiating the Regina Manifesto and contradicting the present policy of the C.C.F. in British Columbia, began to woo the private investor with a sudden passion. It is impossible to believe that any sensible investor will risk large sums of money in British Columbia if the C.C.F. really means what it says in this election, if basic industries are to be punished by brutal, discriminatory taxes and if the government may seize them at any time, on terms of its own choosing.

Secondly, does Mrs. Steeves really imagine that the huge taxes which the C.C.F. intends to levy on the timber and metal industries will be paid by a few callous millionaires, who require liquidation? Surely she knows that these fixed costs of industry will be handed on, to the last possible cent, to the consumer in prices.

The consumer, it may be argued, does not live in British Columbia because most of our timber and metals are exported. That is correct but the consumer in other parts of the world does not have to pay our prices, if he can buy more cheaply elsewhere. It is easy to price ourselves out of the market, as we seem to have done already in the case of fish and could easily do in the case of lumber, not long hence.

It is easy to argue also that a few lumber empires, because their profits are large in total (though not unduly large in relation to their total business and, for the most part, reinvested in enlarging industry) could pay higher taxes. Possibly they could but undoubtedly, under those conditions, they would then restrict their present rate of expansion. The C.C.F. tax, however, would hit the small industries with the large and the small lumber industries right now are, having a hard time to keep operating at all. If they are closed by excessive costs the chief victim, of course, will be the worker who will lose his job.

The C.C.F. is trying to ride two horses in this campaign. On the one hand it proclaims its belief in socialism, in state control of the whole economy, and its hatred of the competitive system. On the other it tells privately-owned industry that there is nothing to fear from C.C.F. policy. Private investment is to be encouraged in every possible way so long as it pays impossible taxes and exposes itself at all times to the threat of government expropriation. The businessman can do as he pleases, provided the economy is controlled by Mr. Winch, Mrs. Steeves and the other expert managers, whose only experience is in the management of unsuccessful election campaigns.

No Need to Gild Canada's Lily

PROGRESSIVE CONSERVATIVE J. Angus MacLean has brought an important point to the attention of Parliament in his discussion of immigration appeal. Many of our new settlers, he says, are coming to Canada under the impression that it is a land flowing with milk and honey, only to find that there are still hardships to be overcome and problems to be faced.

He suggests that the National Film Board produce documentaries to furnish a completely realistic picture of the country so that newcomers will know what they face and will not arrive with false impressions.

It is the belief of most Canadians that their country offers opportunities and a standard of living virtually unsurpassed in the world. In comparison with conditions on other parts of the globe the nation probably qualifies as the land flowing with milk and honey. But the cows still have to be milked and the honey has still to be gathered. Every sensible immigrant realizes that.

On the other hand, it is conceivable that some create an erroneous picture of Canada from the accounts given to them. The immigrant cannot step onto Canadian earth and find a convertible Cadillac waiting to carry him to a new and modern home equipped with all the amenities of a Hollywood luxury film. He has to work for what he gets—and work hard to achieve success.

Canada has no need to be ashamed of the future it offers the newcomer who is prepared to put his shoulder to the wheel. The country, on the other hand, does not want imported parasites who are not ready to do their share of work.

If the outlook presented to the potential immigrant is inexact, if it is being glamorized, corrective action should be taken. It is not necessary to gild the Canadian lily. If the film board, which already has done such excellent work, can assist in defining Canada in true lines to the prospective settler, it will be doing him and the country a distinct service.

Brighter Outlook for British Coal

ON THE BASIS OF RECENT OUTPUT, Britain hopes to avoid a domestic coal shortage next winter. A continuation of current production would virtually guarantee adequate supplies for Britain's own needs, but would not be sufficient to meet export targets.

The significance of reports from British mines is more clearly understood when the importance of the fuel to the nation's entire economy is recalled. On coal, and almost on coal alone, the country depends for its source of industrial energy. If the present trend continues, it would appear that Britain is firing up its boilers once again for the manufacturing job it must do to regain economic health.

For very practical reasons, this increase in output from the mines is one of the most encouraging developments reported from Britain in recent years. Once again the manpower required for the job is being brought up to strength. During the first four months of the year the increase in the number of miners was 6,250, with 9,500 young recruits listed by the miners' training schools.

The improvements in British coal production will have beneficial results outside the United Kingdom. Last year, United States analysts studying the question were dissatisfied with their findings. They could not understand why Britain did not take out of the ground the potential wealth which could have helped the country toward solvency. The revived activity in the mines, indicated by higher output, will have its psychological values. Britain is digging in again, and her friends will be stimulated in their efforts to help a country so evidently helping itself.

Work for the Unemployables

ALD. BRENT MURDOCH HAS SUGgested to the Victoria Chamber of Commerce industrial bureau that it do what it can to encourage cottage industry among the so-called unemployables of this community.

The alderman has approached the question from a very practical route. He has informed the bureau that Victoria expects to spend more than one-third of a million dollars this year in relief to those who cannot be placed in jobs. If those individuals are able to earn something for themselves, that burden on the taxpayers may be considerably reduced.

Supporting his argument, Mr. Murdoch has suggested that a market exists here for souvenirs—articles which people unable to hold regular employment might be able to make at home. Production of such goods, he believes should be stimulated.

The newspaper accounts of the alderman's proposal deal exclusively with the economic side of the question. That position could be matched by one probably equally as important. If the so-called unemployables could produce souvenirs and other handicraft goods for sale, they would be helped immeasurably toward a sense of self-reliance and confidence. Their lives could be made happier by the assurance that they had some useful function to fulfil.

On both grounds the scheme has much to commend it. Study and investigation of opportunities to apply it should be pressed energetically.

Once Is Enough

THE EPIDEMIC OF GIRLS' DORMItory raids staged at various centres in the United States by male university students has brought forth considerable comment both north and south of the 49th Parallel.

Some newspapers, such as the Ottawa Journal, have taken a sober view of the incidents, seeing in "these cheap hoodlum stunts" at least "bad taste" and possibly much more.

The Journal finds such unseemly rioting incompatible with the serious mission which world leadership has thrust upon the United States. And it fears that modern methods of treating "these freed personalities," who must not be punished for fear of thwarting their developing egoes, will fail to solve the problem now raised.

On the other hand, the Montreal Star takes a somewhat lighter view. It refers to the "silly season," and declares that "on the campus it is forever spring." The metropolitan paper, however, is surprised at this new form of campus fever, "not that it should happen but the complete lack of originality that has struck the campuses." In the old days, it claims, what was dreamed up by one student body would have been improved upon by others, not slavishly copied. On the grounds of "wearisome similarity," therefore, the Star fears that decadence is upon the universities.

The truth may lie somewhere between. It would be a mistake to detect in these youthful shenanigans the onslaught of some morbid mental and moral pathology. Middle age cannot be expected to condone what at 18 on a summer evening seems a lark. But there is perhaps an overtone of warning in the occurrences.

In the clear light of day, stealing a girls' underclothing, no matter in what mood of boisterousness, cannot be considered a manly pastime.

The panty raid, if such there must be, should have happened once, and been forgotten. A lark repeated becomes a nuisance.

Chips Off The Old Brock

By DAVID BROCK

GREETINGS, my little dears. And how's your good health (as we say in Wales)? That sounds a rather rude question, somehow . . . as if the other chap has nothing to complain about! In England they're far politer, and ask, "How's your poor feet?" The questioner courteously assumes that you can at least grumble to him about your feet, if not about your tonsils, spleen, and dizzy spells.

Brock

Well, having got rid of the subject of your health, much though it fascinates me, let us push on, regardless, and welcome good old June. May all your daughters be brides, every man Jack of them. I mistook them for men, because they were all wearing trousers, every blue Jean of them. Not that any Jean could be blue in June, because she's going to be married, hooray, hooray. Even when she cries at her friends' weddings, she's crying for joy. You know, when women cry at weddings, everyone thinks they're feeling sorry for the poor bride and all the bickering that lies ahead of her. But that ain't so. They're crying for joy to think she'll have to suffer the same as anyone else. Which proves women are essentially catty, if not downright sadistic.

MORE ABOUT JUNE

SOME time before I was born there was a poet who sat down in Boston and wrote a poem. Quite a few chaps did that in Boston, and still do. Only, because it was a nice June day, I hope for his sake that he was really across the Charles River in Cambridge, Mass., where the houses and gardens are more fun. As Longfellow knew when he took the old George Washington house on Brattle Street . . . a marvelous old wooden house, built in the late 1600's or early 1700's, painted yellow and white, and standing in the coolest of green gardens.

It needed only some lovely lilacs . . . or better, some lovely ladies in lilac frocks . . . to make it perfect. Nothing looks more summery than green, yellow, and some shade of purple, with a touch of white. You'd do well to remember this in painting your garden furniture. Make it a lovely yellow . . . perhaps medium or pale chrome yellow pigment stirred into white paint, or maybe cadmium yellow . . . none of your muddy ochres. Against your green lawn they look very well. But when you sit on those chairs with white clothes and a lilac kerchief or sweater, things are most satisfactory indeed.

WELL, sir, this old poet hauled off and wrote him a poem. Don't be too hard on him . . . he'd probably had a tough day at the office, and just couldn't seem to relax till either he bust something or wrote a poem. There was no aspirin in those days. Even his friend, Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes, who was a physician, sometimes saw nothing for it but to write poetry. But, as I say, if you couldn't relax in Longfellow's garden in June, then you couldn't even relax if you were packed away in a coffin stuffed with excelsior saturated in chloroform.

I KNOW, because I lived across the road from that garden for a year. And my grandmother stayed there when she was a girl, and told my mother about it . . . and the inside of the house was more charming than the outside, even, though that doesn't concern us on a warm June night.

And James Russell Lowell, who was stuck for some way to spin out his prelude to "The Vision of Sir Launfal" . . . you see how lawns were relaxing him, even in the name? . . . Lowell wrote:

"And what is so rare as a day in June?
Then, if ever, come perfect days."

THOSE two lines weren't bad, either, though the next two were a bit ugly. (Look 'em up . . . I've just done that, too.) But the trouble was, for the next couple of generations, you couldn't mention June without having somebody quote the darned stuff at you. There were also gag-men who replied to the quotation, saying that a day in February was fifteen-fourteenths as rare as a day in June, except in leap years. Just utter the word "June," and instead of saying "moon," your ex-friend would start: "What is so rare as a," etc. It got so bad, a man who didn't quote the lines was a whole lot rarer than a day in June. After all, days in June occur about once in 12 times. But non-quoters cropped up only once in a hundred times.

I THINK this nonsense has pretty well blown over now. On account of nobody reading Lowell any more. Or reading anything any more, except the dialogue inside those bubbles over the heads of characters in the comic strips. Our new illiteracy is a pity in some ways. For example, Lowell's wit would be handy for political use. (Read him and see. He impressed Kipling, who was a judge of cheerful cynicism.) But we're not losers all round. No indeedy. Just try saying "June" tonight and see how few, how rare, the quoters will be.

Which Target?

Calgary Herald

The Toronto Symphony Orchestra has dismissed and refused to rehire six of its musician members because the United States Immigration Service, without giving any reasons, barred these six people from entering the U.S. when the orchestra crossed the border to play in Detroit.

It is presumed that the musicians were refused entry because U.S. immigration officers suspected them of having Communist affiliations or sympathies, although four of the six have denied membership in the Communist party or organization sympathetic to it.

Now, here we have the situation where six Canadians have lost their jobs because a foreign but friendly government doesn't like the political philosophy which most of the six persons concerned deny even possessing.

The first impulse is to get raging mad. But the difficulty immediately arises—whom do you get mad at?

MINORITY RIGHTS

Mr. E. A. Standen in his letter to your column on May 20 was hardly correct when he stated that Manitoba abolished their separate schools in 1901. Today Manitoba has 183 schools staffed by religious orders.

Why then are separate schools allowed elsewhere? The answer is merely a recognition of minority rights and a belief in the concept of freedom of education.

Sec. 93 of the B.N.A. Act of 1867 provides for minority rights of education and was so provided for at the request of the Protestants to ensure continuance of separate schools of their own already operating at this time in Quebecc. In other provinces it was the Protestants who granted Catholics their minority rights of education as they were of the true Christian and democratic spirit and I firmly believe that British Columbians too have that same spirit and in the not too distant future will realize the justice of our claims and grant us our minority rights.

DRY SAILING

Reflecting upon the coming liquor plebiscite I humbly submit an idea which I of course think is brilliant.

What a grand thing it would be if the C.P.R. could be persuaded to enact a new rule for their trans-Atlantic ships. This rule would be based on the desire to make all Canadians feel "at home" on ships of their own country.

A separate dining room would be installed in each ship in which no alcoholic drinks would be served with meals.

All Canadians who (by their passports) were shown to be residents of any province other than Quebec or Ontario, would be compelled to take their meals in this "non-alcoholic" dining saloon.

Thus they would enjoy the comforts of home until being disembarked on foreign shores to face the indignities and horrors of alcoholic drinking in Britain, France and other such places.

Do you not think this a jolly thought?

NOT STUPID!

I think it is about time a person who owns a "stupid" budgie sat down and explained a few things to a man who has been unfortunate enough not to see or hear a budgie who does talk.

Before I go any further, let me extend to Tom Merriman an invitation. Any evening (when the Tyees are not here) . . . any Sunday afternoon . . . come up and talk with our budgie, "Aussie." He has a perfect command of the English language. Ours is a superior bird in speech and size and beauty as you will discover. He also has a great deal of intelligence.

Aussie, too, will no doubt be termed "stupid" by you, as he too likes to protect himself from human heads some 10 times his size by his only way of self preservation . . . biting.

Aussie is a rare type of bird. He knows just what to say and when to say it. Like most males, he likes to find a short cut to saying things. You get the full benefit of what he says however. He leaves no doubt in one's mind about saying things clearly. Aussie is an exception to your rule of "a friend of a friend has heard him talk."

Aussie is close to three years old now. It took us nine months to teach him to talk, as both of us work. He has a preference for males. Women are all right, he guesses, except they fuss and coo over him, and make him feel silly. Treat him like a regular "fellow," and he loves you.

I have seen some budgies who talk, though not as clearly as ours, and who lap up kisses and cooing. But to my mind they are "weak characters." Besides, lipstick isn't good for their plumage.

Aussie is the independent dominant male. He also possesses quite a sense of humor and will keep you amused for a long time. He is doubtless not the type of bird you are looking for since he talks and does not like huge objects sticking their faces up to his sanctum, the cage.

Even, so . . . come and see ours. I think you'll like Aussie . . . he even rolls his "r's."

LIGHT ON DEBTS

Having lived for many years (before coming here) under the Social Credit government in Alberta, I would suggest that those who admire this wonderful (?) Social Credit government of that province think twice before going overboard in an attempt to convince the people of the province to vote Social Credit.

In 1944 the net funded debt of Alberta was $139,589,060, the net guaranteed debenture debt was $4,158,173, the unfunded debt was $7,531,414; the total debt was therefore $151,279,187.

The net funded debt as of 1951 was $97,742,488, the net guaranteed debt (debenture) was $4,000, the unfunded debt was $512,050 and the total debt was $98,258,538.

The Social Crediters do not tell you that the federal government helped Alberta to reduce that debt. They wrote off $5,300,000, being the old relief bill, and it should be noted that Alberta did not pass this along to the municipalities, who contributed to the cost of relief. This contribution was made in 1947.

Another $8,931,000 was contributed by the federal government in final settlement of the turning over to the provinces of the natural resources.

The total municipal debt in 1944 in Alberta cities, towns, villages, municipal districts, school divisions and hospital districts was $41,000,000. The total debt of these municipalities as of September 31, 1951, is now $116,000,000, a rise of $75,000,000 in the course of seven years.

The province of Alberta and the Social Credit government have neglected the municipal authorities.

Learning

Toronto Globe and Mail

Apprenticeship as a method of training skilled labor is far from obsolete, as many people are inclined to assume. But in spite of its manifest advantages, few trades outside the construction industry continue to use it. This is partly due to a failure of employers to take the trouble to work a system of apprenticeship training into their normal operating organization. There is also an unfortunate reluctance on the part of unions to enlarge the numbers of men capable of skilled work.

On His Native Heath

Why is it that I have become so concerned about the prevention of the devastation of Buttle Lake, which is the main feature of Strathcona Park, a public park so dedicated by the Legislature of the day for the eventual benefit and recreation of the people of British Columbia?

One reason, of course, is that I happen to be a British Columbian of third generation. I love every part of British Columbia, every acre and inch of it, the rivers, streams, lakes, and even the arid parts. The drive from Ashcroft to Kamloops is a revelation and an inspiration as the beautiful valley of the South Thompson opens up before one's eyes.

Then up beyond the Cariboo, or Eastward through Salmon Arm and the Shuswap country, Revelstoke and the Arrow Lakes, the Kootenay country, Cranbrook and the Windermere Lakes (a good old English name), back over the Monashee Road (which some day will be less hazardous) through the important Okanagan Valley with Vernon, Kelowna and Penticton as the principle cities, and then over the Hope-Princeton Highway, past the fascinating Similkameen and Tulameen Rivers, through the marvellous Fraser Valley, with Agassiz and Chilliwack on either side of the river, to Vancouver our great metropolis and then to Victoria, our beautiful capital city where I was born.

THE ISLAND

The Island, including Sooke, Metchosin, Happy Valley and Jordan River, Shawnigan, Cowichan, Chemainus, Nanaimo, Duncan and north through to Qualicum and then west via Cameron Lake to the Albernis, and then back again to the north, the Comox Valley, Forbidden Plateau and Campbell River.

One must not overlook the beautiful Gulf Islands where I spent my boyhood.

There is no place like British Columbia. I have not forgotten where the Nechako meets the Fraser at Prince George, and the Prince Rupert area, nor Tagish Lake and the wondrous Taku Arm—Atlin, with its marvellous setting on the lake named after it, the West Coast of Vancouver Island, Clo-oose, Bamfield, Port Alberni, Tofino, Clayoquot, Nootka, Esperanza and the rest.

References should be made to the works of the two Bruces, Hutchison and McKelvie, and others who have contributed to the literature of this province.

I received rather a shock today, being informed that it was considered that my letters were subsidised by those interested in the prevention of the damming of Buttle Lake. I first wrote on this matter in July, 1951. I had no knowledge at that time that my friend, T. G. Norris, Q.C., was to be employed professionally on behalf of the conservationists.

SENTIMENTAL INTEREST

I find upon inquiry (because it did not interest me particularly at the time) that my firm received the sum of $75 for services rendered to Mr. Norris' firm in obtaining certain information regarding Strathcona Park, etc. It should not be assumed, of course, that having acted professionally in this small degree that my personal position would be influenced—far from it.

All this may show a somewhat sentimental interest in the important public question involved in the damming or not of Buttle Lake, but Buttle Lake is not just another lake among the thousands of such in our great province. It is part and parcel of an area set aside as a public park — Strathcona Park, which was dedicated long ago for the use and recreation of the people of British Columbia.

As far as I am concerned, it should be regarded as a sacred trust for that purpose.

Ups and Downs

By BRIAN TOBIN

"I NOTICED," said the Elevator Man, "where a pair of swans in England have been pulling the same boner they've pulled for the last 14 years. It seems that each year the birds build their nest in a spot on the river bank that is flooded every two weeks by the opening of the nearby locks. The folks thereabouts who live on river boats have tried to make the swans change their mind and build on higher ground. But they aren't taking orders from anybody. The eggs are laid, a few days later the cold water swirls over them, and even though the mother sits on them until mid-June the chances of hatching are over. So we shake our heads over these stupid birds who can't learn. We call them 'the two dumbest swans' and we smirk to ourselves how homo sapiens would have brains enough to learn of the flood danger and do something about it. Going down!

Tobin

"Then," said the Elevator Man, "we turn to other pages of the paper. And we read how in several different parts of the world flooding rivers have washed out homes, farms and villages. The 'annual floods' they call them, because they happen regularly every year. And we see another item about some community wiped out by lava rolling down from a volcano, with a mention of all the times it's happened in the last half-century. And somewhere else an earthquake has toppled buildings. And some other country reports that a tremor has caused a tidal wave that has killed a lot of people, just like it did last year. And in the Alps another snow slide has caused even worse damage than last year. But all this makes pretty tragic reading. So to cheer ourselves up we turn back to have another laugh at them darn fool swans. Lower main!

"Men," said the Elevator Man, "and swans, often have a hard time learning. But you don't want to confuse stupidity with the good old virtue of 'try, try again.' Because even the trying can be pleasant. Take the case of that fella who kissed the girl and she said coyly, 'You bad boy, don't you do that again.' And he answered, 'I won't. I'm just trying to find out who has the bourbon at this party'."

Hard-Bitten Gunners Recall War Adventures

Bay Street Armories reverberated Saturday night with a reunion of the 15th Brigade, Canadian Field Artillery, that 36 years before had been given Victoria's most rousing send-off when it left for eastern Canada and France.

A rum ration to the 80 veteran artillerymen present started the celebration, after inspection by G. L. Foulkes, former orderly sergeant of the unit.

Members introduced themselves, then sat down to a menu that started with "Soup a La Dishwater" and ran through to "Lievin Coconut Cream Pie" and "Petawawa Coffee."

Gordon Cameron toasted the brigade and recalled its training in Canada and England, and fighting in France.

Dr. William Newton, a former gunner with the unit, responded. Regrets at not being able to attend were sent by Mr. Justice Locke, of the Supreme Court of Canada.

Vets Enjoy Big Reunion

"Best yet" was the way veterans of the 15th Brigade, Canadian Field Artillery, summed up their big reunion at Bay Street Armory Saturday night. More than 80 "old sweats" from Vancouver Island, Vancouver and Salt Spring Island attended. Talking it over in above picture, left to right, are: Gavin Mouat, Dr. J. M. Fowler, P. A. Gibbs, Dr. William Newton and Gordon Cameron.

Combine's Chief Charges Rubber Cartel in Canada

OTTAWA, June 2 (CP)—Combines Commissioner T. D. MacDonald has reported to the government the alleged existence of combines in Canada's rubber industry.

Nineteen rubber companies, including all the leading manufacturers, are involved, as well as the Rubber Association of Canada, the industry's spokesman.

Justice Minister Garson today tabled in the Commons Mr. MacDonald's 700-page, 300,000-word report. It covers four and a half years of investigation by two combines commissioners, but gave no immediate indication whether the companies and association will be prosecuted.

Mr. Garson said he will make a further announcement after he has examined the report carefully and obtained legal counsel "as to whether proceedings would be instituted against members of the alleged combines."

The report on the rubber investigation was initiated by F. A. McGregor, former combines commissioner who resigned in January, 1950, after alleged government delay in tabling his flour-mill industry report. The rubber report was tabled 12 days after receipt by Mr. Garson. The law specifies such reports should be tabled within 15 days of receipt.

First launched in September, 1947, the inquiry to find out if there were agreements among manufacturers to fix prices and reduce competition covered these six divisions of the industry:

Mechanical rubber goods, such as fire and garden hose; tires and tubes; accessories and repair materials, such as windshield wipers and tire repair kits; heels and soles; rubber footwear; and vulcanized rubber clothing, such as that used by firemen and fishermen.

Those alleged to have been involved either through assistance or through direct operation of a combine:

The Rubber Association of Canada, Toronto, alleged to have been involved in five groups—all except mechanical rubber.

The Dominion Rubber Company Limited, Montreal, Kitchener, Ont., and St. Jerome, Que.; the B.F. Goodrich Rubber Company of Canada Limited, Kitchener; and Gutta Percha and Rubber Limited, Toronto, in four groups — mechanical, tires and tubes, footwear and accessories.

Dunlop Tire and Rubber Goods Limited, Toronto, and the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, Quebec City, Bowmanville, Ont., and New Toronto, in three groups —mechanical, tires and tubes and accessories.

The Miner Rubber Company Limited, Granby, Que., also in three groups — footwear, heels and soles and clothing.

Barrington Rubber and Plastics Limited, Oakville, Ont., in two groups — mechanical and clothing.

Firestone Tire and Rubber Hamilton, Ont., and Seiberling Rubber Company of Canada Limited, Toronto, in two groups —tires and tubes and accessories.

Kaufman Rubber Company Limited, Kitchener, in two groups —footwear and clothing.

G. L. Griffith and Sons Limited, Stratford, Ont., and Viceroy Manufacturing Company Limited, Toronto, in mechanical rubber.

The General Tire and Rubber Company of Canada Limited, Toronto, in tires and tubes.

Acton Rubber Limited, Acton Vale, Que.; Cambridge Rubber Limited, St. Remi De Napierville, Que., and Northern-Woodstock Rubber Limited, Toronto, in footwear.

Panther Rubber Company Limited, Sherbrooke, Que., and Holtite Rubber Company of Canada Limited, Drummondville, Que., in heels and sales.

Canadian General-Tower Limited, Galt, Ont., in clothing.

British Labor Paper Advocates Overhaul of British Monarchy

LONDON, June 2 (AP).—Reynolds News Saturday demanded immediate overhaul of the British monarchy "to bring it up to date."

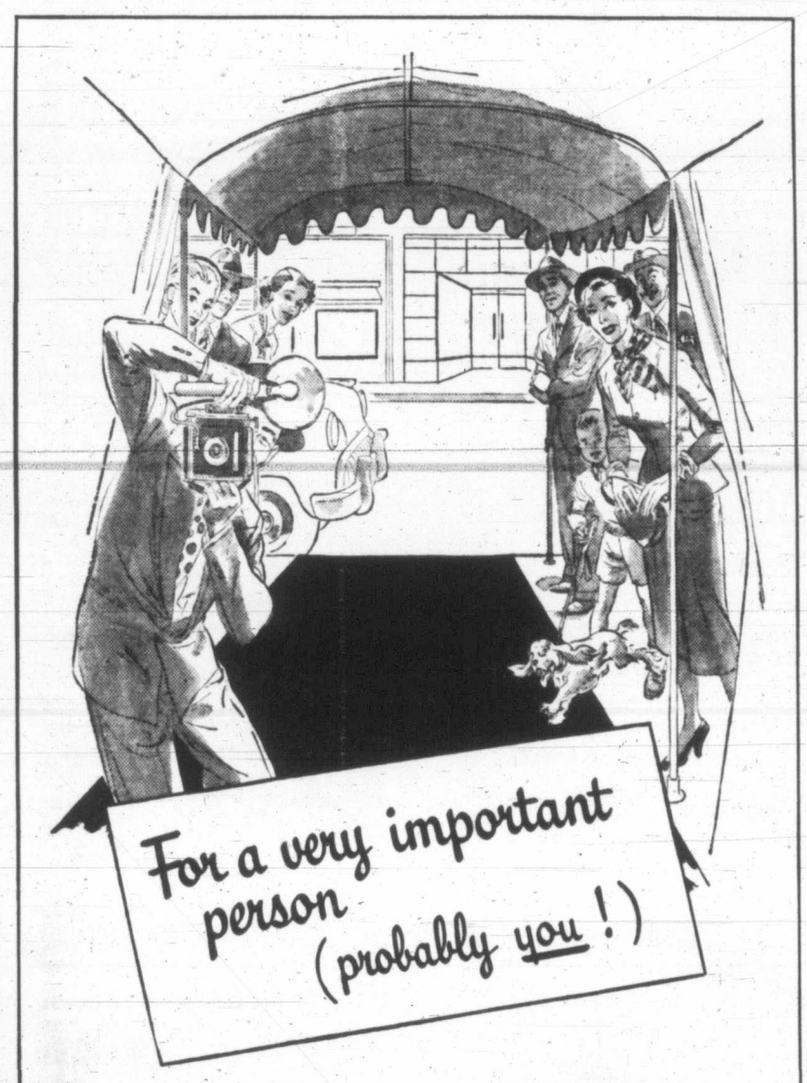
In a bold-face front-page editorial, th labor newspaper called for "a clean sweep of all the out-dated pomp and ceremony that takes such a useless toll of royal energies."

Reynolds News called four royal advisers modern-day Victorians out of touch with modern times. It said they should be replaced on retirement with advisers having a new Elizabethan outlook.

Those named are Sir Alan Lascelles, the Queen's private secretary; Sir Ulick Alexander, treasurer; Lt.-Col. Sir Piers Legh, master of the household to the late George VI, and the Earl of Clarendon, who was Lord Chamberlain.

"According to their lights," Reynolds News said, "these royal advisers have done a good job. But they are ancient lights based on patterns laid down by Queen Victoria. For 1952 the job is not good enough."

"Not good enough," it added, "when somebody thinks it is right for a monarch to stay in the house of a man like South African Prime Minister Malan, as was the intention of the late King's proposed visit to South Africa (cancelled by his death).



He may not be a celebrity, a high government official or a captain of industry. But, for his contribution to the welfare of his community, he deserves to have a carpet rolled out for him!

Who is he?

He is the typical life insurance policyholder — a man whose influence on your standards of living, health and happiness is greater than you may think! In fact, almost everywhere you look there are signs of the benefits he brings to others, as well as himself.

Take that handsome new school in your community, for instance. It might be one of the many vital projects that part of his premium money, invested for him by a life insurance company, has helped to build.

In the same way, he has played a part in providing new highways, industrial plants, waterworks, electrical power stations, housing, oil pipelines and many other important projects in your own or other communities.

Yet perhaps the most important thing he does is just to stand on his own feet financially. As an owner of life insurance he is doing his best to make sure that he and his family will always be independent. No wonder we're rolling out the carpet for him — and the millions of Canadian policyholders he represents!

AT YOUR SERVICE!

More than 50 Canadian, British and United States life insurance companies compete actively to offer Canadians the best possible plans for providing financial protection for their families and retirement income for themselves. A trained life underwriter from any of these companies will gladly help you choose the kind and amount of life insurance that will best fit your individual needs.

'GREATEST HOTSPUR TEAM IN HISTORY OF CLUB'—MANAGER ARTHUR ROWE

Yes, Tottenham Is Fully Aware of Fulham's Fate

By BILL WALKER

The most important question at hand today as mighty Tottenham Hotspur and Vancouver Island All-Stars await the opening whistle of tonight's international soccer exhibition match at Athletic Park is:

"Will Tottenham avenge Fulham?"

This question was put squarely to Tottenham manager Arthur Rowe Sunday following the team's arrival from Vancouver.

Rowe quickly glanced at the interrogator, raised his eyebrows slightly, let his glance fall on international fullback Arthur Ramsey, whose face was hidden from view, and replied:

"Any team that beats an English League team must be a good team. If we're going to be beaten, at least we'll be the second team to lose. We shan't be the first."

The discreet answer which went with the more discreet glance in Ramsey's direction hid a multitude of sins, one probably being that this was an issue which would be explained more fully on the playing field.

Fulham, it will be recalled, lost to the All-Stars last year, 1-0, and never recovering from the blow, were relegated to the English League second division this year.

Team captain Ron Burgess said: "We must expect things of this nature once in a while."

He, too, with a prudent answer, to back up his 34 International Cups with Wales, refused to go limb-crawling.

But in Rowe's next breath, the true potent of Tottenham's mighty forces came to the fore.

"I think this is the best Tottenham team we've ever had," he asserted without a hint of a smile.

"It can rise to great heights on occasions, while it never sinks to a low ebb."

Twenty years with Tottenham, Rowe points to the nursery system as the key to the club's success.

Fourteen of the present team came up through the ranks," he said. "We like to get them as early as we can, intermingling a few veterans with the youngsters to teach them our type of play.

"Our style of game has been likened to the old Scottish game—short passing—" added Ramsey who, incidentally, won't be playing tonight. Ramsey flew directly to Vancouver from Zurich, Switzerland, following international matches there and at Rome and Vienna. He is England's right back and has 22 caps.

Eddie Bailey and Bill Nicholson also played with the English representative side.

He was impressed with Vancouver's Gogie Stewart as were Rowe and Burgess. All three, however, pointed to positional play as the most noticeable weakness in Canadian soccer.

"That's a naive description, though," Rowe explained. "Because positional play, once it is attained, is the key to a team's success. And for that matter, it applies to any sport."

Rating his club fairly and without prejudice or malice aforethought (for the All-Stars) Rowe said:

"I believe we are playing at the peak of our efficiency at the present time. We had a number of injuries early in the season, and because of those injuries, necessary player changes, and the like, we got a slow start.

"When we hit our true stride we went 14 matches without defeat. And only shortly before coming to Canada we played a draw with an Austrian club, composed in the main of the Austrian representative side."

For all the 'Spurs but Les Medley, it is their first trip to Canada. Medley married a Canadian girl.

How does Tottenham propose to deal with the Vancouver Island All-Stars?

Probably the best answer, though an indirect comment, came from Ramsey:

"Once in possession of the ball, we try to keep it. Even if it means going all the way back to our own goal mouth."

There it is from a Tottenham viewpoint on the eve of the fourth game of a 10-game tour. Already they have defeated Toronto 7-0, Saskatoon 18-1 and the Mainland All-Stars 9-2.

Matches remain with the Mainland All-Stars, Calgary, Winnipeg, Manchester United in Toronto and New York, and Montreal.

The 'Spurs have heard about Fulham. They've heard about the Island . . . they won't give up the ball unless they have to . . . and they're reputed to be the greatest team in the club history, a history that goes back to 1870.

Vancouver Island All-Stars . . . beware!

Closest Race of Prep Track Finals

Dave Stafford of Langley, left, set a new mark of 10.2 seconds in the 100-yard dash at Saturday's provincial prep track finals at the High Stadium. Duke of Connaught's Harry Nelson, right, who equalled the old mark of 10.3 at Friday's eliminations, finished second by inches. (See story, page 9).

Describes Visiting Team As 'Poetry in Motion'

By BILL WALKER

Manager Dave Turner of the Vancouver Island All-Stars, who meet Tottenham Hotspur in tonight's international soccer setting at Athletic Park at 7, paused Sunday while releasing his starting line-up.

"They were poetry in motion," he said of Tottenham's 9-2 victory over the Vancouver rep side Saturday.

"It was the loveliest display of football I've seen since 1923." That was the year Third Lanark of the Scottish League played on the coast.

"They were so brilliant," Turner continued, "that no one individual stood out despite the presence of seven internationals on the field.

"They were so much of a team, you almost forgot the individual man . . . they were complete masters."

Turner undoubtedly would have gone on for hours but for an interruption . . . "Oh, yes, the team," he said. "Sorry."

STARTING SIDE

Bill McAllister will start in goal with Bill Hope at right back and Joe Robbins at left back. All three are from Victoria United of the Coast League.

John Pickburn will be at centre half with Ed Young of Esquimalt on his right flank and teammate Jack Robbins of United at left half.

Wally Milligan will centre the forward line with captain Denny McGee at inside left and Legion's Harry Carruthers on left wing. Stan Bob of United will be at inside right with Cedric Robb of the Coast League club on right wing.

Reserves are Paddy Brown of Nanaimo, Sid Robbins of United and Jack McIntyre of Civil Service.

TO USE RESERVES

"And I plan to use the three reserves," Turner said. "They deserve the chance."

Manager Arthur Rowe of Tottenham in naming his club revealed that the Spurs may also take advantage of the substitution rule as he listed 13 players.

Ted Ditchburn will be in goal with Arthur Willis and Gibbins at fullback. Bill Nicholson, Harry Clarke and Albert Wetton will be on the half line.

Bill Walters, outside right; Denis Uphill, inside right; Syd McLellan, centre forward; Eddie Bailey, inside left, and Chris Adams, outside right, from the forward line.

Les Medley and Charles Withers are reserves.

ALL STARS FIT

Regarding his club's chances Turner smiled:

"We'll do our best. The team is definitely fit and will attempt to force Tottenham to display its very best.

"If we succeed in doing that, I'm sure that our team and the fans will be pleased. Also, we will have served our function to bring soccer to Victoria at its finest."

Of the relatively surprising appointment of Denny McGee as team captain, Turner commented:

GREAT IMPROVEMENT

"I felt that a local boy should have the honor and I believe that McGee has shown the greatest improvement as a player during the last year. I would say that Denny is a 50 per cent better footballer now than he was a year ago."

McGee, Hope, Milligan and Bob viewed Tottenham's victory over the Vancouver team.

"And although they were thrilled and dazzled by the display they weren't dismayed," Turner added.

Game time tonight is 7 with the park ticket office opening at 6.

Gard, Gladstone End Tyees' Losing Streak

Indians Move To Within Three Games

Duncan's stop-gap Eric Gard and Granny Gladstone called a two-man halt to the Tyees' three-game losing streak at Salem Sunday and sent the league leaders home with a three-game bulge over the Spokane Indians.

Gard made his third straight start since being signed 10 days ago and his third winning one by hurling a six-hitter at the Senators in the Tyees' 5-2 triumph.

Gladstone cracked out a bases-loaded home run in the fourth inning, the first of the season, to supply the needed edge.

Don Pries and Lu Barnham combined to provide the final run in the ninth with two hits. The Tyees picked up only five from Ted Collins and Sal DeGeorge.

Meanwhile the Indians who fell before the Tyees three straight last week are back on the winning trail.

THREE STRAIGHT

The Tribe edged Yakima Sunday, 6-5, and 5-4, to close the gap on the Tyees whom they meet in a double bill at Athletic Park Tuesday night. Indians won Saturday's contest, 3-1.

Lewiston Broncs barged into third place by two-timing Wenatchee over the week-end. The Broncs won Saturday, 12-1 and split Sunday's twin bill, dropping the first game 9-1, but taking the afterpiece, 4-0.

Tri-City swept three games from Vancouver Capilanos in a week-end action, defeating the Caps 5-4 Saturday, and 5-4 and 7-3 Sunday. Victory hoisted Tri-City out of the league cellar, Yakima taking over.

On Saturday night the Tyees dropped a 6-5 decision to the Senators, Jim Propst being tagged with the loss after replacing Ben Lorino in the seventh. Dick Bartle drove in the winning run in the bottom of the ninth.

The series defeat was only the second of the year for the Tyees.

Moose Keeps Unbeaten Mark

Moose Lodge softballers retained their undefeated record by downing Topper Cafe, 4-0, in a Women's Softball League game Sunday.

Jocelyn Richmond pitched for the victors while M. Couper performed mound chores for the losers.

Times Carriers In Season's Debut

Victoria Times' carrier boys opened their 1952 softball season Saturday with six teams, representing six circulation districts, taking part.

Cook Street vendors edged out Hillside route men, 13-12, while Oak Bay Bugs turned back their Richmond rivals, 13-7. The Gorge gang went on the rampage to beat Vic West 25-4.

GASMEN INCREASE LEAD

Kinch Blanks Butler's Aces

Butler's Aces bumped into a red-hot George Kinch and were tossed to a 4-0 defeat by Pitzer and Nex in Sunday's Senior A Men's Softball League game.

Kinch threw a two-hitter at the Aces. He struck out 10 and walked but two.

Only time he was in trouble was in the third, when he loaded the bases, Archie Sluggett flying out to end the threat.

Only two other runners reached first during the course of the game.

In the top of the ninth Sluggett singled for the second hit allowed by Kinch but was promptly doubled off first when John Furmston lined out to second-baseman Bernie Clarkson.

FACES 31 BATTERS

Kinch, in going the full distance, faced a total of 31 batters.

Pitzer and Nex pounded Archie Sluggett for nine hits including doubles by Bernie Clarkson and Toad Garnet.

Gasmen broke the string of goose-eggs in the bottom of the third when Kinch singled, Clarkson walked, Jimmy Morrison singled to score Kinch and Ab Wiebe followed with a ground ball through the hole into left field to plate Clarkson.

Winners closed out the scoring in the fourth when Clarkson placed a hit behind the infield that took a high bounce over John Furmston, scoring both Hume and Kinch.

Gasmen now have a commanding 2½-game lead over Butlers' Aces and B.C. Forest Products.

League play is suspended for tonight due to the exhibition soccer game. Next action will be on Tuesday at 6.30 at Central Park when Forest Products and Aces meet.

Spurs Impress In Victory On Mainland

VANCOUVER—Ten thousand Vancouver football fans today unanimously agree that Tottenham Hotspur is the finest football club ever to play in this metropolis.

With teamwork the keynote, the 'Spurs walloped the B.C. Mainland All-Stars, 9-2, running up a 9-0 score before relaxing enough to allow outside right Denny Rogers to score both mainland goals.

Inside right Les Bennett scored four goals. Tommy Harmer scored once as did Sonny Walters, Alf Ramsey. Len Duquemain, centre forward, scored a pair. Ramsey, England International fullback, scored his marker on a penalty kick.

The all-round offensive and defensive play of the tourists completely bottled up the All-Stars who, although they played hard, were no match for the visitors.

Every Tottenham player was a star in an impressive performance.

CONNOLLY WINS

SURBITON, Surrey, Eng., June 2 (AP).—Maureen Connolly, 17-year-old United States tennis champion from San Diego, Calif., came from behind Saturday to defeat Mrs. Pat Todd of La Jolla, Calif., 3-6, 6-3, 6-4, in the final of the Surrey grass courts championship.

SCORE FIRST VICTORY OF SEASON

Sons Surprise Rocks

NANAIMO—Victoria Shamrocks learned to their horror Saturday night that Nanaimo Native Sons intend to remain in the Intercity Lacross League and, in future, must not be regarded lightly.

A tremendous Shamrock rally in the second half after trailing 15-7, didn't exactly fail, but the Irish simply had nothing left after tying the score, and lost a heartbreaking 18-16 decision.

Nanaimo's first victory of the season after suffering five straight defeats came with Pat Patterson breaking a 16-16 tie score with a minute and a half to play. Spud Morelli nailed the decision down.

Behind 5-3 at the quarter and 13-7 at the half, the Irish spotted the Sons an additional two goals before their third-period reprisal began.

Five goals to one for Nanaimo plus four unanswered markers early in the fourth quarter knotted the count, Arch Browning getting the equalizer. But there the comeback died.

Gordie Nickle was the top Nanaimo trigger man with four goals, while Browning and Duff McCaghey sparked the Irish with three apiece.

The Irish meet Vancouver at Kerrisdale Tuesday.

In helping their school retain provincial prep track honors for the second consecutive year, Chris Boyd and Ted Whan took top individual awards at the two-day meet. For Whan it is the second year he has won the boys' individual championship.

Runner-up to Miss Boyd's 16 points, earned by two first and two second-place finishes, was Campbell River's Valerie Haig-Brown with 11 points.

TWO RECORDS

Taking three firsts and a third Whan set two of the eight records made by the competing athletes.

His broad jump mark of 21 feet 2½ inches bettered the previous record set in 1947 by 2½ inches and his distance of 43 feet ¼ inch in the hop, step and jump topped his own 1951 record by more than a foot.

Duke of Connaught's speedy Harry Nelson was second to Whan's 17 points with 13 points.

Winners and losers alike, celebrated at a banquet in their honor Saturday night at Vic High. Principal Harry Smith congratulated the athletes on behalf of the host school, lauding Laurie Wallace's efforts towards organizing the meet.

And before the banquet was over, Wallace was to receive further praise from two Olympic coaches for his organizing ability.

Canadian Olympic swimming coach Archie McKinnon said that he had never seen "a man who could get so much done, yet appear to do so little."

Although he didn't say it directly, McKinnon was proud, too, that the coaches from many of the small schools had run for the Victoria "Y" track team in the days when he was coach.

HUMBER ENTHUSED

Another McKinnon protege, Canada's Olympic track coach, Bruce Humber, was enthused by the eight records set by the competitors.

He felt that if they would keep up their track work after leaving school, they would help form the nucleus of Canada's team in the 1954 Empire games. "And," he added, "spectators at the games will no longer be saying over and over 'Canada is eliminated from further competition.'"

Chinooks Add To Ball Lead

Chinooks increased their lead in Senior A Amateur Baseball League standing by troucing Oak Bay Oaks, 20-5, at Royal Athletic Park Saturday night.

In an afternoon league game at the same stadium, Master Plumbers took Harris Cyclers 8-2.

Irish Rugby Club May Play Locals

Queens University of Belfast may play an exhibition English rugger game in Victoria next year as part of its British Columbia tour, it has been learned.

Other games are tentatively scheduled against U.B.C., Vancouver Reps and an all-star B.C. team. The Irish rugby team has accepted the invitation to play such a series around Easter.

Two Teams Tied in Utility Loop Race

Fletchers and City Hall are neck-and-neck on top of the heap in the Utility Softball League. Both have records of five straight wins.

In games late last week, Fletchers downed Mc and Mc, 12-7, while City Hall scored a 14-6 victory over Hudson's Bay.

B.C. Electric office beat the drivers of the same firm, 18-15. Northwestern Creamery won by default from City Police. The two top nines will fight it out for the sole leadership position Thursday night at Macdonald Park.

MANGRUM NOW SECOND IN PRO GOLF EARNINGS

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 2 (UP).—Lloyd Mangrum, who pockets the "long green" almost as often as he putts on the links greens, today ranked second among the pro golf money winners for 1952 as a result of his triumph in the Western Open.

His spectacular 64 Sunday gave him a 72-hole total of 274 for first prize of $2,400 and the crown, one of the few that had eluded the 37-year-old Chicago shotmaker up to now.

His total winnings for the year are now $9,096, just behind those of Jack Burke of Houston, Tex., who has earned $12,455. Mangrum was high last year with $26,088.

His score on the final 18 holes broke the record for the tough 6,616-yard Westwood Country Club course by one stroke and it gave him an eight-stroke margin over Bobby Locke, Johannesburg, South Africa, who finished second with 282.

UPSETS MARK CLUB MEETS

Harris, Woods Golf Champions

Two new names broke into the golf championship column as three local clubs decided 1952 titleholders in Sunday matches.

Tommy Harris, a junior, copped the Royal Colwood crown by beating Billy McColl, club champion for the last two years, one up.

At Uplands, newcomer Bobby Woods, playing top-notch golf, claimed the title after defeating Frank Scroggs, last year's champ, 5 and 4.

Woods was one up after the first 18 holes in the morning and was even par for the 14 holes in the afternoon round.

FLEMING WINS

City champion Bob Fleming took title honors at Gorge Vale by beating P. Fanthorpe eight and seven. J. Corkle took the club's B championship by defeating H. Atkinson 2 and 1.

Championship match at Victoria Golf Club will be decided next Sunday between Bill Newcombe and either Gordon Verley or Colin Rutherford.

OAK BAY SEMIS

Newcombe assured himself a place in the final by beating R. Clay 1 up in Sunday's playoffs. Verley entered the semifinal by defeating E. Brynjolfson, 6 and 5, while Rutherford won over Harold Husband at the 19th.

Newcombe and Rutherford will play during the week to determine who will meet Verley for the title.

Alcos Bowlers Stop Incogs

Superb bowling by Ben Twamley, Al Jagger and Harry Teasdale accounted for Alco's 41-15 victory over University School's Incogs in a league cricket match Sunday at Windsor Park.

Twamley took six wickets for five runs; Jagger permitted only seven runs while Teasdale ended Incogs chances taking two wickets without any runs.

In second-inning play, Incogs managed 55 runs before the sixth wicket fell but Alcos scored another 37 runs for five.

As the inning was not completed, the first-inning score only was counted.

In Saturday's matches, Cowichan defeated Oak Bay 173-148 at Duncan, and Five C's and Albions battled to a draw.

Five C's declared at five wickets, time running on Albions with 94 runs for three wickets. George Payne hit 88 runs for the churchmen, Bob Mainwaring had 45, not out, for Albions.

Brooks Again N.L. Leaders

Brooklyn is back in the lead in the National League today but all eyes are on the Boston Red Sox and their ancient righthander, Ellis Kinder.

Boston climbed to within one game of the American League pace-setting Cleveland Indians Sunday as Kinder hung up his 18th consecutive triumph over Chicago's White Sox with a 3-2 victory, in relief.

The tall Tennessean, who will be 38 next month, would be the best pitcher in baseball if he could face the White Sox all the time. He owns a 20-3 lifetime record against his windy city "cousins." They haven't beaten him since the middle of the 1948 season.

A home run by Fred Hatfield, his first of the season, snapped a 2-2 tie in the seventh and gave Kinder his fourth victory of the season.

Meanwhile, the St. Louis Cardinals caught up with their nemesis, Dave Koslo, battering the lefthander for six runs in five innings as they swept a doubleheader from the Giants, 8-7 and 8-2, to knock New York out of first place.

SLAUGHTER CONNECTS

Koslo, who has won his last 10 decisions over the Cards, escaped defeat, however, when the Giants battled back to a 7-7 tie in the eighth inning. St. Louis then won the game in the bottom of the ninth against George Spencer when Enos Slaugher hit a home run with two out.

Gerry Staley, backed by a 12-hit attack against three hurlers, including a home run by Red Schoendienst, won his ninth against three setbacks in the nightcap.

Brooklyn swept past the Giants into the No. 1 spot by edging Chicago Cubs, 3-2. Dodgers scored all their runs in the second inning, two of them coming on Gil Hodges' two-run homer.

The Boston Braves won their first game for new manager Charlie Grimm with an 18-hit, 9-4 victory over Cincinnati after veteran southpaw Ken Raffensberger had pitched the Reds to a 1-0 masterpiece.

Ralph Kiner clouted his seventh homer with two out in the ninth inning to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 2-1 victory and a split against the Philadelphia Phillies. Curt Simmons pitched a seven-hitter for his fourth triumph in the Phils' opening-game 5-1 victory.

NATS SPLIT

In the American League, Lou Sleater won his third straight for Washington and Ted Gray gained his fifth for Detroit as the Senators and Tigers divided a doubleheader, winning 4-3, and losing 6-3.

N.H.L. MEETING SET BACK

MONTREAL, June 2 (BUP).—The National Hockey League's annual meeting in Montreal has been set back a week.

President Clarence Campbell says that it would be held June 17 and 18 instead of a week earlier because club owners and officials couldn't make the earlier date.

50-CENT CLAMP PROVES COSTLY TO VUKOVICH

INDIANAPOLIS, June 2 (AP).—Driver Troy Ruttman and owner J. C. Agajanian and his crew collected $61,743.18 of a record $230,100 purse Saturday night for winning the Indianapolis motor speedway 500-mile race Friday.

The total purse was up from the 1951 total of $207,650, but Ruttman's cut was less than the $63,612.12 Lee Wallard took last year because Ruttman led for fewer laps. Each lap was worth $100 to the leader.

Bill Vukovich, in 17th place, won $18,693.18, of which $15,000 was lap money. A 50-cent clamp on the side of his steering gear made the difference between his purse and Ruttman's, because Vukovich was leading Ruttman by almost half a minute when the clamp broke and put him out of the race.

what's so exceptional about DAKS

One might say it's the comfortable self-supporting waistband, another that it's their superb hang, or the length of time they last. All true. But back of these there is the unusual quality of the cloth from which Daks are tailored, whether it be Daks worsteds, specially woven with a two-fold warp and weft, gaberdines or pin-points. Plastic Lens Restores Sight of B.C. Woman

VANCOUVER, June 2 (CP)—An artificial lens, made of plastic and smaller than an aspirin tablet, has restored the sight of a woman here.

Blinded by cataracts in both eyes for 10 years, Mrs. M. Bogert, 57, of Enderby, B.C., underwent the first-known operation of its kind in North America, it was reported Saturday by surgeons at the Vancouver General Hospital.

The artificial lens was placed inside her left eye after it was molded to the same shape as the natural lens.

"I can see my daughter's features for the first time in 10 years," said Mrs. Bogert now staying at the home of the daughter in Vancouver.

"Now I can hardly wait to see my other four children."

Surgeons here followed the techniques evolved by Dr. Harold Ridley of London, England. He has performed 25 such operations in England.

In a routine operation, a cataract was removed from Mrs. Bogert's right eye, but surgeons feared a similar operation on her left might leave her totally blind for life. Prior to the operations she was able to distinguish between light and dark, but that was all.

She consented to the new operation on her left eye and the placing of the plastic lens in replacement of the natural lens. The plastic is the perspex type used in the hatch covers of fighter planes.

Quads for Sure, Quints Maybe

Mrs. Marion L. Manning (left), 27-year-old mother of three children, will give birth to quadruplets for sure, according to physicians' X-ray reports, and quintuplets are a possibility. Her husband, John J. Manning (right), sitting with their children, Dennis, four; Ann, two, and Mary Alice, three (left to right), is the president of a bus company in Weymouth, Mass.

Children Fly to Defeat Whooping Cough Discomforts

CALGARY, June 2 (CP).—Three small planes with a cargo of six small children took off from the Calgary Flying Club Sunday afternoon, soared to 12,500 feet, circled around, descended 1,000 feet, straightened out, descended another 1,000 feet and kept on doing that until they landed back at the club an hour and three-quarters later.

It was a special flight for the benefit of Mrs. C. W. Haun's six kiddies who have been suffering from whooping cough for over three weeks.

The youngsters, Pat, 8; Glenda, 7; Billy, 5; Shirley, 3; Maureen, 2, and Susan Barbara, seven months, were taken on the would-be cough-curing flight by Mort Samuel and Les Cahan, who piloted their own planes, and Bill Grant piloting of the the club's planes.

By Sunday evening, however, Mrs. Haun was unable to say that any of the children were completely cured. However, the youngest was definitely coughing less than she had done for three weeks, and the two older ones seemed much better, she said.

South Africa's Natal Warns May Quit Union

DURBAN, South Africa, June 2 (AP)—Pro-British Natal, newest South African storm centre, this week formally warns it may quit the union because it considers the Nationalist government has violated the constitution.

The breakaway action, if tried, could lead to civil war in the opinion of responsible government and anti-government leaders. But most South Africans seem to think the crisis will not go that far.

Government spokesmen have charged that all talk of Natal quitting the union is so much anti-Nationalist propaganda. If Natal did walk out, they say, the grass would be growing in the street of this thriving harbor city inside six months.

But many people of this eastern seaboard province claim they are in deadly earnest.

The provincial council Tuesday discusses a resolution to be submitted to Prime Minister Daniel Malan's government. It calls for a new national convention to reaffirm the constitution of 1910. If Malan says no to the request, leaders say positive—but so far undisclosed—action will follow.

The council resolutions are sure to be passed. The anti-Malan forces have an overwhelming majority. Public support for it will be whipped up tonight at the biggest mass meeting ever planned for Natal. Some 50,000 persons are expected.

Natalians often have been accused by the Nationalists of being more British than the Queen herself.

Holmes Out, Grimm in In Managerial Change

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—Tommy Holmes was fired Saturday as manager of Boston Braves, a job he had held less than a year, and Charley Grimm was named as his successor.

The 52-year-old former pilot of Chicago Cubs took over the seventh-place Braves in Cincinnati, Sunday.

Brave general manager John Quinn said Grimm had been signed for the remainder of the present season and also for 1953. He refused to reveal salary terms. Quinn said that Holmes would be retained in some capacity in the Boston organization.

Grimm, an outstanding National League first baseman from 1919 to 1933, had been pilot of the Braves' Milwaukee team in the American Association. He led the Brewers to the pennant and playoff championship last year.

The fun-loving new leader of the Braves began his managerial career in 1932 when he replaced Rogers Hornsby as manager of the Cubs in mid-season. The Cubs went on to win the pennant.

Quinn said: "We have a lot of regard for Tommy Holmes. But we felt Holmes needed more experience. We selected Grimm because Charley has that experience and background, both as a manager in the majors and the minors."

Red Smith, Milwaukee coach and one of Grimm's buddies, will manage Milwaukee until a successor is named there.

It was the first managerial change since the start of the 1952 season.

Grimm has managed Chicago Cubs twice before and has been boss at Milwaukee twice. The Brewers currently are in first place.

Drobny Upsets Frank Sedgman

PARIS, June 2 (AP).—Jaroslav Drobny of Egypt, former Czech star, whipped Frank Sedgman of Australia Sunday, 6-2, 6-0, 3-6, 6-4, to retain the French tennis championship and stamp himself as a prime threat for the Wimbledon title later this month.

Doris Hart of Jacksonville, Fla., reversing the result of last year's women's finals, defeated Shirley Fry of Akron, O., 6-4, 6-4, to take the women's title.

Ken Rosewall of Australia won the junior title.

Army Scores Eighth Win

League-leading Army came from behind to post a 6-4 win over Timkeneers in Sunday afternoon's senior B softball fixture at Heywood Park. It was the eighth victory of the season for the men in khaki.

Down 4-3 in the eighth inning, Army went on the march with singles by Carr and Boettcher, followed by a home-run clout by Phil Burke.

McAlpine Captures Westminster Title

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., June 2 (CP) — A hole-in-one by Jackie Reynolds stole the show Sunday as Wally McAlpine of Vancouver shook off a strong finish by the favored Bill Mawhinney to win the 36-hole New Westminster City amateur golf championship.

McAlpine toured the Burquitlam course in even-par 142, carding 72-70, to unseat Mawhinney, defending titlist, and also from Vancouver, by two strokes. Mawhinney's card was 73-71—144.

Cowichan Defeats Burrard Cricketers

VANCOUVER, June 2 (CP).—Cowichan defeated Burrards, last year's mainland league champions, by 142 runs to 105 Sunday in a cricket match here. Bob Mainwaring compiled 79 runs not out for Cowichan. Tom Stevenson made top score of 46 for Buarrards and Jack Unsworth took four wickets for 26 runs for the same team.

Minor Baseball

Junior ball players carrying the banner of the Eagles' Fraternity took Combines to the tune of 18-7 Sunday at Macdonald Park.

In other games in the under-16 division, City Centre beat Oak Bay 18-3, while Saanich downed Oaklands 13-3.

In the morning games for players under 14, Eagles whipped Saanich No. 1 21-14, while Fernwood beat Fairfield 19-11. James Bay won from Esquimalt by default.

Ben Hogan Beaten by 6,006 Duffers

NEW YORK, June 2 (UP).—First official returns showed today that 6,006 duffers in Canada and the United States "beat" Ben Hogan is a week-end golf tournament.

Hogan, playing alone, shot an even par 71 at the Northwood Club in Dallas, Tex., Saturday. A total of 43,965 duffers, aided by handicaps, played their local courses in an attempt to beat Hogan's score, sponsor Life Magazine reported. Of them, 6,006 beat Hogan.

The $1 "admission" fee in Canada went to the Red Cross and the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association.

In Victoria, 14 golfers became entitled to wear the "I Beat Ben Hogan" medal.

They were: H. F. Hepburn, Gordon Verley, C. W. Walker, Colin Hart, George Bigelow, D. C. Matheson, Dr. R. H. Lyons, J. R. Murray, Don Woodhouse, Dr. Jack Calvert, Bill Martin, Jim Robertson, Vic Painter and Jimmy Simpson.

Hogan's card follows:

Par Out	454	435	443	—36
Hogan Out	444	335	443	—34

Canadian Olympic Prospects Shine

ANN ARBOR, Mich., June 2 (BUP).—Canadian Olympic prospects starred Saturday as Illionis University edged Michigan by 2½ points to retain its Big Ten outdoor track championship.

Ten thousand spectators filled Ferry Field to watch Illinois roll up 67 6-10 points to 65 1-10 for host Michigan. Iowa was a distant third with 28 points.

Rich Ferguson of Toronto, 20-year-old Iowa freshman, pulled the upset of the day, however, when he dethroned Michigan's defending champion Don Scott McEwen of Ottawa in the two-mile event. McEwen, who earlier had placed second to teammate John Ross of Oakville, Ont., in 4.10.7 mile, was shaded by inches as Ferguson came from behind off the last bend. Time was 9.19.

Cirilo McSween defeated Jackie Carroll of Michigan in the 440-yard dash in 48.7 seconds. Carroll, the indoor Big Ten quarter-mile champion who hails from Montreal, came back to run the anchor leg on Michigan's winning mile relay team.

Roy Pella of Michigan and Sudbury, Ont., was third in the discus throw with a heave of 150 feet. Ross was fourth in the half mile won by Stacey Siders of Illinois in 1.15.2, the fastest of the year.

The Skeena River in British Columbia is navigable by steamer for about 100 miles from its mouth near Prince Rupert.

Reds Riot in Berlin

A West German policeman grabs one of the 6,000 Communist youths who attempted to invade the American sector of Berlin. Police used tear gas to quell the riot which came on the heels of the peace treaty signed between the Allies and the German Federal Republic. (NEA Radio-Telephoto.)

Police Hunt Mystery Car in Church Theft

NEW YORK, June 2 (UP).—Detectives hunted today for a green sedan which they believed was used in the theft of two crowns worth $100,000 from a Roman Catholic shrine.

An usher at Regina Pacis Votive Shrine told police he saw the automobile parked near the church between 10.30 p.m. and midnight Saturday—the time of the robbery.

The usher, whose name was not disclosed, said he did not take the sedan's license number but gave a full description. He said no other automobile was parked in the vicinity.

Thieves tore the bejewelled crowns from a mural of the Virgin Mary and infant Jesus behind the altar of the shrine. The crowns had been affixed to the mural only a week ago.

Monsignor Angello R. Cioffi, who had taken the crowns to the Vatican last January to be blessed by Pope Pius XII, almost wept Sunday as he pleaded at every mass for their return.

He asked parishioners to repeat "Hail Mary's" and say their rosaries all month.

The parishioners wept. The crowns had been fashioned from rings, lockets, pendants, bracelets, diamonds, rubies, sapphires and other gems.

ODD QUARTERS DIDN'T BOTHER PAIR OF HENS

PULASKI, N.Y., June 2 (AP) — Samuel Bass says he put two New Hampshire Red hens in an orange crate at Lakeland, Fla., tied the box on the rear bumper of his car—and had eggs regularly all the way north.

He said he found two eggs when he fed the hens each night en route. The last night there were three.

Bass noted with a chuckle that poultry experts contend that changing a hen's quarters usually stops her egg production.

Pope Appeals for Peace Effort

BARCELONA, Spain, June 2 (UP)—Pope Pius XII, in a message closing the 35th international eucharistic congress, appealed to Roman Catholics to pray with one voice for "the one true and possible peace."

In a radio address Sunday night from the Vatican to the final session of the six-day congress here, the Pope in an apparent reference to the Communist peace campaign said that talk of peace was not enough.

"For some, it is nothing other than an exterior formality, consisting of words, imposed by the tactics of the moment and constantly contradicted by their actions, so contrary to all they say," he said.

For the Catholic church, the Pope said, there was "but one true and possible peace, that of Him whose name is 'Prince of Peace.'"

He said the Catholic church wished to hold out the congress as an example to the world so it may "understand where lies the source of true peace."

The congress was attended by more than 300,000 pilgrims from some 40 nations, including the United States. The American delegation of approximately 1,500 persons was headed by Francis Cardinal Spellman, Archbishop of New York.

3 Ontario Miners Die In Tragedy Mile Down

News Proves Fatal to Mother of Victim; Two Survive Crash at Kirkland Lake

KIRKLAND LAKE, Ont., June 2 (BUP)—An investigation was ordered today into a rock and mud slide that killed three miners a mile underground and caused the death of the mother of one of them when news of the tragedy reached her.

Rescue crews at the Lakeshore Gold Mines had to dig through tons of mud and rock to reach miners who had been clearing away rock from an earlier slide on the 5,400-foot level.

Two other men, buried in muck up to their thighs, survived the collapse and had to stand helpless while the moans of the dying echoed through the shaft.

Mrs. S. Kensy, elderly and ailing mother of shift boss Leo Kensy who perished under the rock, died from the shock of the news. A doctor said she suffered a heart attack. Her son, Leo, 36, was the father of three children.

COLLAPSES AT RADIO

Steve Kane, day-shift boss, broke the news to Kensy's family. He and Kensy's wife were about to call a doctor to administer sedatives to the elderly mother to ease the shock when they told her. But while they discussed the problem, Mrs. Kensy turned on a radio in another room and heard a newscaster reporting on her son's death. Kane said they heard a slight gasp, then rushed into the room to find the woman slumped on the floor.

Killed with Kensy were A. Soopalu, 45, and Tony Poloni, 33, who was to have been reunited today with his brother, arriving from Italy after years of separation. Soopalu and Poloni also were married and each had one child.

Rene Houle, 47, and Riley Charron, 42, who survived the tremendous crash of rock and mud, said they were saved by the frame and door of a ventilator opening. They were on the floor of a "drift" 5,400 feet down, Houle explained, when they heard an ominous "cracking and snapping" noise.

"Suddenly there was a 'poof' and I yelled a warning but I guess they hardly had time to hear it," House said. "There was a horrible 'boom' and something crashed against my head.

DIG OUT

"When I came to, Charron and I were buried in the muck up to our thighs, and in total darkness. We were sheltered between the frame and the door of a ventilator opening. Then we heard the moans of the others and we knew they hadn't been as lucky.

"I found my light and turned it on. There was a tremendous pile of muck all around us, and little pieces of rock still tumbling from the collapsed ceiling.

"Charron and I managed to dig out, then we stumbled to the emergency phone and called the cage tender. He got us up to the surface."

Rescue crews entered the weakened corridor and dug for 12 hours before reaching the bodies of the miners.

The two survivors were taken to hospital, where they were treated for shock and lacerations.

Mine officials ordered the investigation. Some miners said the cause could have been the result of an "air blast" precipitated by pressure from above on supporting pillars.

VETERANS AT RALLY TALK OF OLD WARS

Major A. E. Christie Wields His Sabre

Memories of old wars filled the minds of old soldiers when more than 200 veterans of the Boer War attended a reunion banquet in Britannia Branch hall Saturday night.

They heard the roll call sound the names of regiments, now disbanded, but famous in history—Imperial Yeomanry, Third Hussars, Twelfth Lancers, Prince of Wales Dragoon Guards.

Against a backdrop of the flag Queen Victoria's men carried into battle 53 years ago, the veterans recalled the "last of the gentlemen's wars," and even earlier campaigns, when they rode off to war in brass buttons and scarlet uniforms.

There were veterans who fought prior to the Boer War, in Egypt at Khartoum, in the sweltering Sudan and with the French Foreign Legion.

Mrs. R. A. Maclennan, only woman who attended as a Boer War veteran, was a nursing sister, and on graduation from St. Thomas Hospital, London, saw Florence Nightingale.

The famous first nursing sister visited the hospital and spoke to the graduates.

George Reid, 68, who served as a trooper in the Boer War, as a sergeant in the First World War and as a captain in the Second World War, was the youngest veteran present.

Oldest was 91-year-old Maj. A. E. Christie, D.S.O., who cut the huge cake with a cavalry sabre. He was wounded in the Riel Rebellion, fought in the Boer War and First World War.

Three Killed While Fishing

MINNEAPOLIS, June 2 (AP)—A father and two sons fishing from a railroad bridge died Saturday and four others were injured when a train bore down on them.

Bodies of the father and sons were taken from shallow water of Lake Minnetonka. It was not determined immediately whether they were killed by the train or knocked unconscious and drowned.

G. E. Samuelson, engineer of a Minneapolis and St. Louis Railway train, said he didn't have time to stop when he saw the group.

The bridge, several blocks long, is over Carson's Bay, about 9½ miles west of Minneapolis in the town of Deephaven.

SCHOOL PLAN OPPOSED

Parents, Teachers Ask Straith to Intervene

Intervention of the Minister of Education will be sought by Brentwood and Keating schools' parent teacher associations in their quarrel with the school board of district 63.

Protests against the board's reported decision to make Mount Newton High School a general institution for grades 1 to 9, inclusive, has brought no satisfactory response from the school board, they say.

Mrs. Hugh MacDonald, president of the Brentwood P.T.A., said Sunday the chairman of the school board, George Chatterton, had told her Mt. Newton would become an elementary-intermediate-junior high school next term.

She is taking immediate steps to call a further protest meeting of the sponsoring P.T.A. groups, and is inviting the general public to attend.

Meanwhile, she plans to approach Arthur Ash, who sat as member for Saanich in the last Legislature, to procure the intervention of Education Minister W. T. Straith.

Some Brentwood parents already have threatened to keep their primary grade children away from school rather than have them attend, where much older children are under instruction.

R.M.C. Graduates First Class in 10 Years Today

KINGSTON, Ont., June 2 (CP)—The Royal Military College graduated its first class in 10 years today and 24 of the 63 knew they would soon be serving in Korea. The entire army component of the class, 24 men, has volunteered to serve with the 25th Brigade.

Defense Minister Claxton said the class shows that the idea of training officers for all three services together has proved a success despite original doubts. It was launched in 1948 when this class became the first group to enter R.M.C. on the new tri-service basis.

Less Worry, Better Teeth, Says Doctor

MONTREAL, June 2 (CP)—Dr. Albert Laferrier of Montreal said Saturday dentists would have much less work if people would only stop worrying.

He told the closing session of the annual meeting of the American Academy of Dental Medicine that with the world situation so tense and prices sky-rocketing, everyone seems to be "grinding their teeth."

"It may be hard to believe, but the state of the nation has a lot to do with the dental mortality rate," he said.

"People who worry don't sleep and become run down, and this has a direct effect on their general health resulting in teeth disorders and diseases."

'FRIENDLY SPIRIT'

Strange Happenings At Tod Home Related

The late John Tod, who came to Victoria to retire in 1850, may have started a strange sequence of events when he turned to spiritualism shortly before he died. The odd occurrence persisted in his home long after his death.

Miss Madge Wolfenden, assistant provincial government archivist, has presented a paper to the B.C. Historical Association on Mr. Tod, dead for 70 years, whose Oak Bay house is said to have harbored a "friendly spirit."

Miss Wolfenden who has spent many years studying the life of Tod, brought the surprising news to light and told how he passed "through the stages of rationalism to spiritualism."

Quotink from letters of the day, she said Tod's contemporaries were surprised at the development.

Many stories have been told of the old Tod house in Oak Bay, where chairs were alleged to have been rocked, doors opened and Christmas decorations swept from the mantel long after the original owner's death.

Strange manifestations in the house were reported by Col. and Mrs. T. C. Evans of Toronto, when they bought it some years ago.

Human bones, covered in lime, were found a few years ago when the garden was excavated. Since then there have been no manifestations.

Tod was born in Scotland in 1794. He came to North America with the H.B.C. when he was 17.

Representatives from Victoria, Oak Bay, Saanich and Central Saanich councils were present for the crowning ceremony. The program was arranged by the Esquimalt Community Club, sponsor of the show. Mrs. R. McVie was convenor.

The Victoria Girls' Drill Team provided a guard of honor for the May Queen. Music was provided by the Esquimalt Salvation Army Band.

A neighbor of ours, who has just moved, found himself in difficulty last night.

In the course of moving, both the minute and hour hands were broken off his one and only alarm clock.

The clock had stopped, so he had to figure out how to set it for the correct time, before setting the alarm.

This he succeeded in doing, being a smart man.

Anybody else know how he did it?

In a friendly spirit of good-will to all parties, the following slogans are offered for the use of the respective provincial leaders:

Social Credit: Victory is synonymous with a boy who's anonymous.

As far as I know, there is only one country in the world where this could happen.

A U-Drive company has this suggestion to make in a magazine advertisement:

"When it's your turn to pick up the family for golf . . . but the family has plans and are off with the car—call us. We have a new car all ready for you to drive wherever you wish."

Yes, only in the United States is hubby allowed to buy the car, pay for its upkeep, and rent a U-Drive when he wants to go somewhere.

In the same country, women are getting to be so dominant that they are even taking over traffic duties on the police force.

The important hours on these important days are from 1.30 to 4.30., and from 7 to 9.30 p.m.

60,000 Workers In Wage Battles

I.W.A. Carpenters, Hotels May Strike

Developments today indicated a sharp showdown between labor and management in British Columbia over the continued upward spiral of wages and decreasing markets. It is estimated 60,000 workers are affected.

1. The reaffirmation by the International Woodworkers of America executive in Vancouver Sunday to lead 32,000 loggers and millworkers on strike if no contract is settled by June 15.

2. Determination of Vancouver Island and mainland carpenters to strike for increased wage demands.

3. Last-minute mediation attempts in Victoria and Vancouver to settle the dispute in the Empress Hotel and Hotel Vancouver before the Tuesday midnight strike deadline.

4. Arthur J. Cowan, Vancouver lawyer, was named today as chairman of a conciliation board to hear the woodworkers' dispute, and hearings will open in Vancouver Tuesday, Lawrence Vandale will appear for the union, and C. George Robson, lawyer, for the employers.

C.N.R. officials, representing half ownership of Hotel Vancouver, were scheduled to meet today with workers, and a meeting will be held in Victoria Tuesday at 5 p.m.

Up-Island and mainland carpenters have voted solidly for strike action, while Victoria carpenters asked the Labor Relations Board today to set a date for a government-supervised strike vote.

A carpenters' strike would affect about 23,000 building tradesmen here and on the mainland.

I.W.A. officials reported its strike plans are complete, in the event that negotiations with Forest Industrial Relations Ltd., employers' representative, fail to achieve an agreement.

ELECTION TAKES PRECEDENCE OVER CIVIL SERVICE PARLEYS

British Columbia's 10,000 civil servants probably will have to wait until after the June 12 election before resuming negotiations with the government for a five-day, maximum 40-hour week throughout the civil service.

It was learned today there is little likelihood there will be another cabinet meeting before the election.

Representatives of the workers had hoped for a meeting this week. Last week the government's offer of a five-day, 36¾-hour week for office workers and a five-day, 44-hour week for outside workers was rejected.

Transport Board Hears Argument For Better Island Service

Apathy on the part of the E. & N. Railway Co. in not showing any real effort to improve its service is the main cause for the decreasing number of people making use of the railway service on Vancouver Island.

This charge was made today by George E. Bonner, who presented a brief on behalf of the Vancouver Island Ratepayers' Association to the Board of Transport Commissioners for an order directing the E. & N. Railway to increase its service on Vancouver Island.

The board sat at the court house here.

Commissioner F. M. McPherson adjourned the hearing after Mr. Bonner and J. A. Wright, solicitor for the railway company, presented arguments for and against increasing the railway service on the Island.

Mr. McPherson said interested parties will be informed of the board's finding at a later date.

The Vancouver Island Ratepayers' Association, of which Mr. Bonner is president, is seeking an order to increase the railway service between Victoria and Port Alberni and Victoria and Courtenay.

It is also asking that the passenger trains terminal at Nanaimo be relocated at the Canadian Pacific Steamship Docks and a program of works be prepared to bring the service up to "the standard of modern, fast passenger service."

Another request is for the extension of the railway from Courtenay to Campbell River and Duncan Bay.

Mr. Bonner said the association felt the company should have improved its service with the subsidies it has been receiving since the railway was built years ago.

"In fact, with the money received in subsidies to date, double tracks could have been laid from Seymour Narrows to Victoria and from Port Alberni to Victoria with silver rails and golden spikes," he said.

In support of his argument, Mr. Bonner said the population of the island had increased from about 110,000 to 250,000 in the past 10 years.

"Despite the increase in population and increased revenues from freight, the company has done nothing to improve the service," he added.

Mr. Bonner said the railway company should not have allowed the buses of its subsidiary companies to compete with the trains.

Mr. Wright in answer to Mr. Bonner's arguments, said the passenger service of the railway company was not paying for itself.

Fire Leaves 7 Homeless At Shawnigan

Fire of undetermined origin completely destroyed the home of Mrs. E. P. Keene, Shawnigan Lake, Sunday afternoon despite efforts of the Shawnigan Lake Volunteer Fire Department.

The alarm was turned in at 3.45 p.m. Mrs. Keene was working at Queen Alexandra Solarium, Mill Bay, at the time, and it is understood her six children were not at home.

Both the home and contents were lost. The house, said to be worth $10,000, was partially covered by insurance. Owner of the rented home was William Bell.

Temporary accommodations have been arranged for Mrs. Keene and her children.

Instrumental in fighting the fire, about one mile from Shawnigan Lake village, were Leslie Batchelor, William Batchelor and Ian Cudlip.

Truck Driver In Train Collision

16-Year-Old Abtar Singh's Condition Reported 'Fair' After Crossing Crash

A truck-train crash on the Songhees Indian Reserve about 11 a.m. today sent a 16-year-old truck driver to hospital with multiple injuries.

In fair condition at St. Joseph's Hospital is Abtar Singh, 270 Burnside.

A driver for Island Sawmills Ltd., the youth was proceeding across the tracks with a loaded sawdust truck when an E. and N. up-island-bound passenger train struck and nearly demolished the truck.

He had just come from the mill and was on his way onto Admirals Road when the collision occurred. His truuck was turned completely around and the load of sawdust scattered along the tracks.

A nearby resident, 19-year-old Vera Thomas, said she was walking along Admirals Road when she heard the train slow down and blow repeated warning signals before the crash.

The injured driver was taken to hospital by Victoria ambulance.

In five other week-end accidents here damage was high.

FIVE ESCAPE CRASH INJURY

Five persons escaped injury Saturday afternoon when their U-drive car struck a telephone pole on West Saanich Road and crashed into a ditch.

R.C.M.P. said the driver was William Holman, of Quesnel. Damage to the car was estimated at about $500.

In Saanich, $200 damage resulted from a collision between cars driven by Richard F. Snape, 920 Tulip, and Maurice M. English, 1032 Tulip, on Tulip Ave.

At Fort and Blanshard, cars driven by John W. Edwards, H.M.C.S. Naden, and Stanley Palmer, James Island, collided and caused medium damage.

More than $150 resulted from a collision on Esquimalt Road Saturday between cars driven by Paul Kannaspuro, Brentwood Auto Court, and W. W. Mitchell, Saanichton.

A herd of cows was blamed Saturday for a collision on the Shawnigan Lake Road.

According to the R.C.M.P., motorists R. W. Sinclair, district game warden, and E. C. Pollock, 1245 Montrose, failed to see each other when the wandering cows blocked a clear view of the road.

Length of Stay Period In Hospitals Decreased

Due to the institution of hospital co-insurance, the average length of stay of B.C.H.I.S.-covered patients in public hospitals decreased from 10.19 days in 1950 to 9.8 days in 1951.

Figures compiled by B.C.H.I.S. show that total adult and children days covered by the scheme were 1,469,034 during 1951—a decrease of 7,581 over 1950 despite the fact that an additional 5,000 patients were covered by the service.

If the length of stay had remained at the 1950 level, B.C. H.I.S. would have been required to accept responsibility for about 57,400 additional days of hospital care.

This average reduction of .4 days per patient or 57,400 days per year represents the utilization of about 200 beds for the entire year operating at 80 per cent capacity.

To construct these beds would have cost more than $2,000,000 and the annual operating cost would be about $700,00 a year.

(It will be recalled that one of the principal objectives of the co-insurance policy was to reduce length of stay by discouraging unnecessary hospitalization and in this way reduce costs and effect greater utilization of existing facilities.)

B.C.H.I.S. officials expect co-insurance collections for the 12-month period ending March 31, 1952, will be about $2,100,000.

The incidence of hospitalization in B.C. is once in every six and a half years, compared to once in every five years in Saskatchewan and once in every eight years in the United States.

B.C.H.I.S. budget for 1952-53 is $25,002,590. Included in its revenue is a government subsidy of $4,686,990.

Mr. Scott, who is crusading for "practical Christianity," said a group of young people gathered around him, and one grabbed the placard and turned it around so nobody could see it. The young man then told the candidate to leave.

A lady gave Mr. Scott a lecture, saying if he was a Baptist he wouldn't have to display such placards.

"It all proved my message," said Mr. Scott.

★ ★ ★

J. Ronald Grant, young city lawyer, is being asked a lot these days why he is speaking from platforms supporting Liberal candidates.

Reason for the questions is that Mr. Grant's father was a life-long Conservative, and his grandfather a Conservative member of the Legislature for many years.

When asked why he is a Liberal, Mr. Grant replies: "I just looked at the Liberal record."

Progressive Conservative leader Herbert Anscomb has made nearly 50 speeches in the election campaign.

Over the week-end C.C.F. leader Harold Winch was trying to get his voice back to normal. Vancouver reports said Friday night he was down to talking in "husky whisper," but was "still in their fighting."

CHUCKLES—BY THE HUNDRED

Famed Cartoonist's Work On Display at T. Eaton Co.

An even 100 chuckles are available to downtown shoppers at the T. Eaton Co. house furnishings building, between Government and Broad Streets.

They are original drawings of H. T. Webster cartoons, a daily feature on the Times editorial page, which went on display today and will be open to the public for the remainder of the week.

Webster fans will recall many of the cartoons in the display, which includes Caspar Milquetoast, "The Timid Soul" the old people of "The Unseen Audience," and the moppets and their troubles in "Life's Darkest Moment."

The pen and ink drawings have been mounted on screens on the south side of the building's second floor, and special space and lighting arrangements have been made for the showing.

Swiftsure Winner Not Yet Known

Early reports that Herbert Day's Ono of Seattle took the 1952 Swiftsure race have been disputed, and race committee members are still working on corrected times to establish the actual winner.

Some yachtsmen feel that it is a toss-up between Dr. Phil Smith's Gossip and Franklyn Eddy's Dorade, both of Seattle.

The race is run on a time handicap basis, with higher-rated boats giving away time to the lower-rated yachts.

Maruffa, owned by John Graham of Seattle, was first across the finish line late Saturday afternoon, followed 30 minutes later by Dorade.

Early reports place Ono, which crossed the line 10th, in first position on corrected times.

Neither Bucanneer III nor Dragoon, the two Victoria yachts in the race, were close to the leaders.

Official results will be announced by Royal Victoria Yacht Club when received from the race committee.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Start Summer Sewing Now! Be Able to Relax Later

By PENNY SAVER

Most smart women who like to sew their own clothes have already started work on their summer clothes, so they will be ready to relax in the pleasant warm weather.

With this in mind, here are some of the new labor-saving devices your local sewing centre has available for the ambitious home seamstress.

If your sewing box has a delightfully casual air with spools of thread all over, scissors up-ended, needles stuck into everything—it might be a good idea to start a reform right away. There is a marvellous little thread box, made of sturdy plastic which has individual receptacles for thread, keeps the thread clean, neat and tidy, in clear plastic so you can see the color of the spools.

There is a little wrist pin-cushion in gay colors which will fit over either your wrist or the machine head, there is a pressing kit, especially designed for all pile fabrics, especially velvets and corduroy.

And of course, if you still haven't learned the innermost secrets of sewing a fine seam, there is a sewing book by Mary Brooks Picken—the 91st book of sewing by this authority.

So that your belts will have a professional "finish" there is a new stiffening to which you simply stitch your dress material (it will wash and dry clean). There are buckles to go with it made of plastic into which you insert dress material to match the belt.

So that the home seamstress can be as high-fashioned as she likes, there is bone belting for use in the very new empire waist bands, and Mohair braid for making new full skirts a stand-out.

Ideal for waxing thread to be used on tailored garments or where additional strength is necessary for buttons or the like, is the circular bar of hard wax you can buy for 12 pennies.

And when it comes to active days, especially for children, you won't find anything better to keep trim and neat than non-slip garment grips which sell for 25 cents for a roll.

It will keep shirts and blouse neatly tucked inside the band and a skirt won't twist. The grip is soft and featherweight, therefore no bulk is added.

Washing or dry cleaning won't hurt, all you have to do is sew it in.

Surely you'll be able to sew a fine seam now!

Hospital Auxiliary Is Oldest in Province

Mrs. J. Phethean gave a brief history of the growth of the Women's Auxiliary to Royal Jubilee Hospital, at a meeting held last week at the nurses' home.

Organized in 1887, and originally called the Ladies' Aid Society of the Royal Jubilee Hospital, this is the oldest hospital auxiliary in the province.

At opening of the original maternity wing, the auxiliary donated $8,000 which was called the Queen Victoria Memorial Fund.

Interest has never lagged over the years, Mrs. Phethean said, and now the auxiliary has taken as a secondary interest the work of assisting the Victoria Cancer Clinic. Other activities include sewing, visiting patients, comfort of student nurses and supplying special nurses.

Mrs. S. H. Okell presided and welcomed 25 special guests. Mrs. L. Taylor reported 17 new members; Miss M. Curry, 127 articles completed by the sewing group in the past two months; Mrs. W. Crawford that $19 had been realized from sale of used stamps.

A bronchoscope donated to the Victoria cancer clinic had been delivered, said the treasurer, Mrs. F. J. Broughton.

It was announced that a special meeting will be held on June 11 in the hospital annex at 2, to discuss plans for the garden party and that the two next sewing meetings will be held on Wednesday and on June 11 in the annex.

Miss L. Woodrow, supervisor of nursing at the hospital, addressed the gathering briefly on the great assistance the auxiliary renders to the hospital.

Dramatic Trend—Jewelry is following the trend away from the V-neckline. High-cut and off-shoulder dresses now demand ornamental jewelry, a New York designer says, and the swing is to dramatic interpretations. Latest creations are pendants with an Alpine cabin theme, fashioned from brilliant white palladium and a love-bird house pin, using emeralds, pearls and palladium again.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Why Keep Hair on Legs? It Can Be Removed Easily

Yesterday I suggested that we are now in the "leggy" season. There are many factors which add to or detract from the beauty of legs. Naturally the contour of the leg is of first consideration. If your ankle is thick or your calf is too heavy or your legs are like pipe stems you should try to improve them.

Much can be done for these conditions and tomorrow I will give you more detailed instruction. Today we will think of those other factors which can make your legs unattractive.

No matter how pretty the shape, if your legs are fuzzy looking or discolored or have roughened skin they will not add to the glamour of your appearance. I do not understand why any woman today keeps hair on her legs when it is so simple to remove it. There are all kinds of effective depilatories today which are pleasant to use.

You no longer have to hold your nose while you defuzz your legs. Many of the depilatories are pleasantly scented. You simply apply one of these, leave it on for a few minutes and wash it off, along with the hair.

Many women shave their legs. There is now a shaving cream designed especially for women. This has long been a controversial matter. I do not believe that shaving makes the hair come in thicker. Your main hazard with this method is a cut and roughened skin.

Depilatories do not remove the hair permanently and you must repeat as often as necessary. So what? The effort is certainly worth the trouble. How often you must use these is an individual matter. Hair grows faster on some legs than on others. Some women need a depilatory only once a week while others must use one twice or more.

The skin of the legs may be roughened. There is no reason to continue with this handicap. Massage your legs with a body lotion each night. If this does not remedy the condition you may need more vitamins. Vitamin deficiency can cause extremely goose pimly or dry looking skin. Ask your doctor about this.

If you would like to have my leaflet No. 13, "Take Steps Toward Lovely Legs," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow: "You can Change Shape of Legs With Exercise."

I.O.D.E. Reports Growth in Many Projects and in Membership

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., June 2 (CP).—Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire increased its membership by 284 to 31,695 in 1951, its annual meeting was told today.

In one of several reports prepared for delivery, Mrs. W. M. Walkey of Toronto, national organization secretary, said there now are 932 chapters in Canada, compared with 924 in 1951.

Mrs. C. M. Scott of Peterborough, convener of the national Commonwealth and Empire committee, reported that the I.O.D.E. has sent a total of $5,000 to India to help in the translation of nurses' textbooks into Hindi.

TREASURER'S REPORT

In the absence of the national treasurer, Mrs. Peter L. Robinson of Toronto, Mrs. W. R. Walton, Jr., of Oakville, Ont., presented the treasurer's report. She said the I.O.D.E. last year spent $891,967 on its work in education, welfare and aid to veterans.

Two new I.O.D.E. funds, the London House fund and the national cigarette fund, were established during the year. Donations to the latter fund ensure that regular shipments are made of cigarettes for free distribution to British and Canadian armed forces stationed outside the North American continent. To date, 677,600 cigarettes have been sent at a cost of $2,900.

Donations to the London House fund will be used to endow study bedrooms, in London House, a residence in London for British Commonwealth and Empire students. Some 500 Canadian students already have stayed there.

To date the I.O.D.E. has donated more than $1,000 to London House which was founded in 1930.

EDUCATION PROGRAM

The I.O.D.E. spent $167,384 on education last year, Mrs. J. D. Detwiler of London, Ont., national education secretary, said in her report. It was the largest amount devoted to that purpose in the order's history.

In 1951, chapters placed emphasis on the giving of scholarships rather than on bursaries. Three hundred and six scholarships totalling $24,412 were awarded for subjects ranging from advanced study in English to music and art. Two hundred and fifty-three bursaries valued at $42,433 were granted. Special monetary assistance totalling $12,194 went to 305 students.

In the last two years interest in the order's "adopted" school program has increased 50 per cent in British Columbia, Mrs. Detwiler said.

"One chapter continued its sponsorship of the art centre at the University of British Columbia and spent $1,500 on this project in 1951."

AID FOR INDIANS

"More and more interest is being taken in the education of the North American Indians," Mrs. Detwiler continued. "Indian schools are being adopted in several provinces and bursaries and scholarships are being offered to encourage Indian children to take advantage of secondary school, normal school and university education."

Ethel Raymond of Brantford told delegates that children who have immigrated to Canada are eagerly participating in the order's penpal program.

In her report as convener of this I.O.D.E. project, she said that "hundreds" of schools and chapters in Canada and overseas are enjoying group correspondence.

Miss Raymond said the Royal tour of last autumn gave impetus to correspondence throughout the Commonwealth. She said 4,988 names have been "linked" by the order in the last year. Of this total Newfoundland with 14 participated for the first time in 1951. Topping the provinces were Ontario with 3,181, Saskatchewan with 579 and Alberta with 496.

Diplomat's Daughter To Miss Royal Party

LONDON, June 2 (CP)—Diplomat's daughter Diana Wilgress will miss a chance to be presented to the Queen because her father has been recalled to Canada.

Ordinarily 17-year-old Diana would have made her curtsy at one of the Royal presentation parties in June.

Now her father, L. Dana Wilgress, is returning from his high commissioner's post here to become under-secretary for external affairs at Ottawa.

"Perhaps Diana will be able to come over to be presented next year," said Mrs. Wilgress, Diana's Russian-born mother.

Miss Wilgress, a fashion-conscious teen-ager, hopes to become a professional model in Canada. First, she will complete her schooling at Macdonald College, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, Que., and take a domestic science course.

She made her modeling debut at an export show in Eastbourne, Sussex, in March, 1951, and later appeared at a third-dimensional exhibit at the Festival of Britain.

ISLAND DIGEST

LADYSMITH, June 2 — A woman in the audience at a political meeting bested three political candidates in Cowichan-Newcastle who ventured to mention their union affiliations.

Speaking at Speedway Hall, Robert Strachan, C.C.F., said he was a good union man. Andrew Whisker, Liberal, said he still held a union card, and Mayor J. C. Wragg, Conservative, said he had been a member of the Bakers' and Confectionery Workers' Union before the other two candidates had been born.

But the lady won the biggest hand from the crowd.

"I belong to the biggest union in the world—the housewives' union," she said. "We work long hours and don't get paid overtime."

Near Riot as Manchester Nips Mexicans

LOS ANGELES, June 2 (AP)—Excited soccer fans caused a near riot Sunday when Manchester United, English League champions, shut out the fiery Atlas team from Guadalajara, Mexico, 2-0.

Referee Al Thompson saw nearly as much action as the two teams. In the second half, Thompson called a tripping foul against an Atlas player. Another Atlas player swung a haymaker but Thompson ducked. The Mexican was thrown out of the game.

The argument lasted 10 minutes and was beginning to quiet down when an Atlas fan came onto the field and let loose with a right uppercut aimed at Thompson. Thompson ducked again. Five police dragged the fan from the field.

As the final whistle blew another excited fan ran onto the field and was surrounded by police. Then more than 100 fans swarmed upon police and the captive. Police, helped by more calm fans, cooled the situation.

Truman Will Ask Senate for Quick O.K. on U.S.-W. German Alliance

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—President Truman will ask the Senate today for the fastest possible approval of an indirect military alliance between the United States and West Germany.

The president's aides had ready for submission to the Senate copies of the pacts which State Secretary Dean Acheson signed, or whose signing he witnessed, in Europe last week. With the pacts goes a statement reported to emphasize the administration view that Senate consent to U.S. ratification of the documents prior to the adjournment of Congress is of utmost importance.

Foreseeing bitter parliamentary fights in France, Germany and possibly other European countries over the addition of West Germany to the European defense system, the Truman administration would like the Senate to set the pace.

Little opposition has appeared in the Senate thus far, and senators interviewed today predicted quick approval.

SABOTAGE AND STRIKES

The occasion afforded the president an opportunity also to warn the Russians of the seriousness with which the U.S. regards the German situation. Red leaders in Germany have called for "extreme national resistance," including sabotage and strikes, to prevent the final forging of the links between the West and the West German state. The Reds even hinted at civil war.

The documents which require Senate approval are:

1. The peace contract by which Britain, the United States and France would give West Germany virtual independence, thereby laying the basis for it to rearm and participate in the defense forces and international councils of West Europe as an equal.

2. An amendment to the North Atlantic Treaty, extending the guarantees of that pact (an attack on one will be considered an attack on all) to the projected new European defense community. The E.D.C., it has been agreed, will make a similar commitment to the North Atlantic Treaty nations as a group.

Innoculation Against Radiation Hinted By Chalk River Experts

TORONTO, June 2 (BUP).—Soon you may be able to have an innoculation against radiation sickness, the deadly after-effect of an atomic explosion.

When that happens, the atomic bomb will be no more terrible than any other weapon of war. It will be more powerful and kill more people, but it will be nothing more than a bigger and better bomb.

Canadian scientists at the atomic energy plant at Chalk River, Ont., are working on this problem, as well as many others involving the peace-time applications of atomic energy.

These uses of the atom were discussed Sunday night by the scientists themselves in a special hour-long radio program over the C.B.C. Commentator Tom Benson visited Chalk River and interviewed the men there to discover what they were doing.

One thing learned is that it is no more dangerous to live at Chalk River than anywhere else.

"I think it would be safe to say that the great majority of people working in the plant receive less radiation from dangerous material than a man living in Banff does from cosmic rays," said G. Campbell Tait, of the radiation hazard control division.

"Man has been exposed to radiation since he first appeared on earth—and continues to be exposed every day of his life . . . the very air we breathe carries sufficient radioactive material to interfere with measurements we are making here at Chalk River."

Dr. A. J. Cipriani, director of the biology and radiation hazard control, discussed the effects of radiation on the human body. He's not worried about the every-day radiation you get from cosmic rays, but about the effects of radiation treatment for cancer and of an atomic explosion.

Speakers will be George S. Houghan, former manager of the Canadian Restaurant Association, and Rev. Stanley Higgs, of St. Michael's Anglican Church, Vancouver.

Ray Whellams, the association's campaign organizer in Victoria, said today Mr. Houghan's subject will be: "Will More Liquor Outlets Promote Sobriety?"

Mr. Whellams said Mr. Houghan has been recommended by Bishop Godfrey T. Gower, of New Westminster, president of the Alcohol Research Council. Mr. Houghan is a former general manager of the Canadian Retail Federation, and has lived 14 years in B.C. and 22 years in Ontario.

Albert Sullivan, former inspector of high schools in B.C. and now president of the Victoria Citizens' Association, will be chairman.

The meeting will be open to the public.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Psychiatric Advice May Aid Overweight

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

This column is started with a quotation from a rather extraordinary letter received from a reader. She says:

"I have always had trouble keeping my weight down, and lately have been taking pills that help to kill the appetite. After some time I consulted a doctor because of some menstrual disturbances. He told me I was all right and advised no treatment, but told me I should consult a psychiatrist.

"Of course, I refused, and felt downright insulted, so that I forgot to tell him that I had been taking the pills. Do you think that these pills could dry up a person's blood?"

This is the kind of story which irritates doctors no end. Here is a reader who, without advice, took drugs when she could not know whether they would have any harmful effects or not—though whether they would "dry up a person's blood" is extremely doubtful.

Then, when she went to the doctor who found no physical condition responsible, she did not tell him the whole story and was insulted when he recommended that she consult a psychiatrist.

It is quite well known that many persons suffering from overweight may have some mental cause which is at least partly responsible. If the doctor she consulted felt that a psychiatrist might be able to help her in her problems, including that of overweight, she should certainly not be insulted, but realize that he is only giving the best advice he can.

People who are trying to lose weight often fool themselves by sticking strictly to their diet most of the time but eating between meals. They say to themselves, "I just won't count this."

Also, many people say that they eat practically nothing at all. What they mean is that they eat a small breakfast and small lunch, but at dinner—oh boy! Under these circumstances no wonder they do not lose as they think they ought to.

'FATHER OF PROGRESSIVE EDUCATION' DIES AT 92

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP).—John Dewey, 92, known as the father of progressive education, died Sunday.

The aging philosopher, who recently was reported recovering from a broken hip, succumbed to an attack of pneumonia.

He died last night at his Fifth Avenue home.

Dewey's philosophy of education was that emphasis should be put on the individual child rather than on the subject.

Few, if any, men had as much influence on educational thinking of the time. His views did much to humanize the American school system.

'TOMBOY' HAIR-DO

Latest Haircut Fad De-Styles 'Poodles'

By ALINE MOSBY

HOLLYWOOD, June 2 (UP)—Movie queens are blossoming out today in an extra-short "tomboy" hair-do that puts the poodle hair cut right out of style.

To be fashionably poodled, actresses like Esther Williams and Elizabeth Taylor had their hair cut short and curled like the noggins of those French pooches.

Now glamour girl Jan Sterling makes them look like long-haired ladies.

She had her shoulder-length blonde curls whacked shorter than Tony Curtis'.

Jan's hair, what's left of it, is straight and slicked back just like the boys outside the corner pool hall.

It's so short, in fact, that her husband, Paul Douglas, cracks, "the first morning I thought I'd woken up next to a choir boy."

"It all started with swimming," Jan explained. "Paul can get out of the pool and he looks fine, but I always have to put my hair up in bobby pins.

"So the studio hairdresser cut off seven inches of my hair. Now when I get out of the pool I just gip, gip with my hands on my hair like men do, and it looks great.

"Besides," she added, "Paul and I can go to the same barber now."

Her Paramount Studio bosses raised an eyebrow but finally gave in. She had to leave her hair slightly long at the sides so she can pin on false hairpieces for their next period picture, "Pony Express."

Another devotee of the tomboy cut is actress Marian Marshall. Her's is slightly longer than Jan's, though, and combed in back like a zoot-suiter's coiffure.

"With the long length I looked like every other blonde in movies," said Miss Sterling. "Now they know I'm the one with the short hair.

"I don't know whether just anybody could do this. You have to be feminine enough. Some girls, especially brunettes, might look just like boys. But I don't think it lessens most girls' sex appeal. If you've got it, you've got it, without hair or with."

The next step after the "tomboy" cut will have to be the crew cut.

"I don't think I'll go that far," Jan said.

Festival Group Awards $840 In Bursaries

By AUDREY ST.D. JOHNSON

A break-down of the report of the awards committee of the Victoria Musical Festival Association, reveals the fact that a total of $840 was awarded in bursaries by the association during the recent festival. This amount does not include scholarships made available by other musical organizations.

Twenty-four individuals and 26 groups received varying amounts as a result of the policy, whereby festival surplus funds are converted into practical assistance for talented musicians.

The annual meeting of the Musical Festival Association will be held tonight in the schoolroom of First United Church, starting at 8 o'clock. Everyone who is actively interested in music should attend this meeting if possible. An organization that is doing such constructive work in the community is worthy of interest and the fullest support.

The number of persons affected by the festival in the Greater Victoria area already runs into the thousands. Next year it will be even bigger and with the full support of the music-conscious public, many more students and choral, dance and instrumental groups will be assisted in pursuing their avocation through the Musical Festival Association bursaries.

New Coal Seam Said Discovered in N.S.

SYDNEY, N.S., June 2 (CP)—Rich new coal deposits, including a seven-foot seam, have been found at Cape Mabou, 12 miles from Inverness, N.S., it was learned here. The find is included in a report submitted to the federal department of mines by Dr. T. B. Haites, Dominion Coal Co. geologist, and not yet made public.

The field has three seams and tests indicate it is of high quality.

Most miners at once-prosperous Inverness have been unemployed since the government colliery was closed last year. At present some 300 are not working.

Queen's Jazz-Fan Cousin to Wed

LONDON, June 2 (UP).—A jazz-loving cousin of Queen Elizabeth II will marry a pretty blonde former actress six years older than himself next month.

The engagement of 27-year-old Gerald David Lascelles, 13th in line of succession to the British throne, and Miss Angela Dowding, 33, was announced in the Court circular today—just 24 hours after the end of court mourning for the late King George VI.

As a member of the Royal family, Lascelles had to obtain the Queen's approval to wed. The marriage will take place in fashionable St. Margaret's Church, Westminster, July 15. The Queen has granted permission for the reception to be held in St. James' Palace.

Lascelles and Miss Dowding first met at a ball in a London hotel two and a half years ago. She had retired from the stage six months earlier, and her fiance has never seen her act.

Among the plays in which Miss Dowding appeared on the London stage was "Rookery Nook," internationally-known comedy. She toured with E.N.S.A. forces entertainers, during the Second World War.

Friends describe her as pretty, blonde and about five feet four inches tall. Her engagement to Gifford Shelton Rossi, only son of the late Cecil Rossi and Mrs. Ruth Rossi of 5th Avenue, New York, was announced in October, 1948. But less than a year later, it was announced the wedding would not take place.

Miss Dowding is a stepdaughter of Sir John Fox, former chief registrar of Britain's Friendly Societies, an insurance combine. Her mother married Fox after the death of his first wife 10 years ago.

Lascelles is a son of the Princess Royal, sister of the late King George VI, and the late Earl of Harewood. Unlike his opera-loving brother, the present earl, Lascelles is a jazz enthusiast and his record collection includes a number of discs contributed by Princess Margaret, sister of the Queen.

Lascelles left Eton early in the Second World War to work in a munitions factory at $8 a week and later enlisted in the army as a private. He rose to officer rank and took part in heavy fighting in Europe. At 21, he inherited valuable sugar plantations in Barbados. He now works for an automobile firm.

First Cars Travel John Hart Highway

The John Hart Highway, linking coastal British Columbia with the Peace River district, has been traveled, although the road's official opening isn't scheduled for about two months.

First parties to test the route were engineers of the West Coast Transmission Co., Ltd.

They were preparing for the natural gas pipeline through British Columbia to the Pacific Northwest.

The engineers were able to drive from Fort St. John on the Alaska Highway down the John Hart Highway to Vancouver.

Only break in the trip is at Parsnip River, which hasn't been bridged. The party was ferried across the river. The bridge will be finished soon.

Western Oils Move Ahead At Toronto

TORONTO, June 2 (CP)—Western oils and industrials pushed slowly higher today toward the stock market's close but other sections made little headway.

All sections edged upward in afternoon trading but gains were slight.

Industrial dealings were confined to a few leading issues. New Ryan Lake, a base metal issue and the market's most active stock, added pennies in a turnover of about 95,000 shares. Volume totalled about 1,600,000 shares.

Papers and liquors led industrials upward with a scattered list of fractional advances. Steels, foods and constructions also drew moderate support but banks, manufacturing companies and retails stores slipped.

Western oil gains ranged from pennies to about 50 cents. United Oil climbed strongly in active trading. Trend and Ajax were also active but made little headway.

Lower-priced base metals held gains and losses in balance but leading issues climbed moderately. American Yellowknife traded steadily for little change.

Senior oglds were mixed. Junior producers showed little trend but prospects eased.

N.Y Mixed on Steel Issues

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—The stock market turned mixed and quiet today as a steel strike followed rapidly on the heels of the Supreme Court decision declaring government seizure of the steel mills illegal.

Many issues were backing away from their highs of the day and activity was slowing even before the C.I.O. steelworkers started leaving the mills.

Volume ran around 1,200,000 shares.

United States Steel, Bethlehem and Republic each dropped a fraction after going ahead fractions.

Railroads slipped. Santa Fe, New York Central and Southern Pacific slipped a bit.

Advances included United Aircraft, Anaconda, Kennecott, Allied Chemical and Barber Oil.

Declines were Studebaker, Goodrich, American Cyanamid, Westinghouse, American Woolen, Standard Oil (N.J.) and Philip Morris.

Canadian issues were mostly higher. International Nickel and Hiram Walker each added ½, Dome Mines gained ⅜, and Distillers Seagrams was up ¼. Canadian Pacific dropped ⅛, and McIntyre was not quoted.

On the curb, Giant Yellowknife added ⅛, Lake Shore lost ⅞, and Royalite Oil fell ¼.

Slow Gain on Montreal Mart

MONTREAL, June 2 (CP)—Stock prices were trendless and narrow towards the close today on the stock exchange and curb market.

Senior oils, utilities and miscellaneous industrials moved ahead slightly. Carriers, beverages and senior metals were a trifle lower.

Steels and papers were mixed while banks remained unchanged.

Ahead were General Dynamics, Fraser, Price Brothers, Shawinigan, Marconi, Consolidated Smelters, International Petroleum and United Steel.

Mines were mixed in a penny range. Kenmayo and Lafayette were active and higher but Dome and Carnegie were down. Western oils showed a broad list of gains ranging to 25 cents. Among the gainers were Del Rio, Sweet Grass, Anglo-Canadian and Harman. Trading was active.

Industrial volume was 29,700 shares and mines 404,500.

Vancouver Firm

VANCOUVER, June 2—Noon close: Investment support for fading western oil issues appeared in early trading at Vancouver exchange today and bolstered a weakening market.

Continental at $2.20 was ahead 25; United was stronger at $2.60, up 15; Charter was better at $2.10.

Base metal leaders weakened and industrials slipped back fractionally.

Central Leduc was ahead 10 at $3.75, and Canadian Western Lumber closed at $7.75.

London Closed

LONDON, June 2 (CP)—The London stock market was closed today, Whitsuntide holiday.

B.C. Lumber Men Aim at East Mart

By BURKE CAHILL, Times Business Editor

British Columbia forest products producers are fighting hard for a bigger slice of eastern Canada markets.

Cahill

With Britain cutting her buying to the bone in the face of adverse trading balances and U.S. interests showing signs of a drive for higher tariffs, the local lumber manufacturers feel that development of wider sales in eastern Canada is a must.

The B.C. operators at the moment are concentrating on selling industrial Ontario on B.C. materials.

The Financial Post this week reports on the efforts of the western lumber men to penetrate the eastern market.

Officials of the west coast lumber manufacturers estimate that domestic markets take about one-third of their total output. This excludes B.C. interior mills. The hope is to boost this to near one-half total production or more.

WESTERN DRIVE

The westerners are aiming at housing, engineering and heavy structural uses for their products in the east.

Housing is the big plum which the western manufacturers of speciality building materials hope to pick.

To help the drive, a "Trend House" has been put up at Toronto, built of a wide range of B.C. wood products. The designer of the Trend House is Fred Brodie of the B.C. architectural firm of Sharp & Thompson, Berwick and Pratt.

The Trend House at present tangles with some building bylaws in eastern municipalities, but lumber men hope that the new National Building Code, due this year, will wipe out many of the older regulations which, they claim, have been made largely obsolete by improvements in materials.

In home construction, the B.C. drive is aimed mainly at the eastern luxury home of $30,000 and up. The reputation for "best in Canada" homes built in B.C. is a main starting point for the invasion of the eastern markets.

ENGINEERING

In engineered structures, the western lumber manufacturers are promoting the glue-laminated timbers developed here. These have replaced steel and other materials in some jobs and gained a foothold in the engineering market when steel was in extremely short supply.

The glue-lam timber structures division has already expanded with Timber Structures Ltd., at Peterborough, Ont., the largest.

B.C. lumber specialists have also put out designs for timber and concrete bridges. Several models have already been used in competition with other materials on the construction market.

WATER SHIPMENT

Freight rates, which control a large part of the costs of sellins to eastern markets from here, are a stiff hurdle for the western lumber men. However, if promotion of the B.C. materials over the next few years is sound, the western businessmen, taking the long-range view, hope to cash in on the St. Lawrence Seaway and the growth of west-east water transport.

B.C. lumber men already ship a lot of their product to more easterly points via the Panama Canal and this traffic is on the increase as shipping rates become more competitive with the long land haul.

The main need right now is a bigger market. And the B.C. men are determined to make it.

New Process Near on Western Oil Sands

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, June 2 (CP).—Canada is speedily reaching the threshold to a new and advanced research process which could conceivably turn her into one of the world's greatest producers of natural and synthetic oil.

The process involves the breaking down of coal and tar sand under extremely high pressures in a new type of pressure plant, devised by Canadian scientists. The plant, now under construction in Montreal's outskirts, will be installed in the fuels laboratories of the federal mines department in a matter of weeks.

Dr. Thomas E. Warren, a mines department engineer, has tried for some 20 years to find a cheap process, but with little success. Now he thinks he's got something that may finally do the trick.

The plant he designed, along with two other departmental engineers, K. W. Bowles and W. H. Merrill, actually is an improvement over the German process used during the Second World War.

This is known as hydrogeneration—simply the combination of hydrogen with some other item such as coal and oil sand. But Dr. Warren decided to experiment with higher pressures than the Germans did.

"I feel," he said, "that we have finally reached the turning point. The new plant will provide a great acceleration in research and may tap big potential reserves of oil now locked in bituminous sands and coal. All this, of course, will be of benefit to Canada."

Traders of Sixty Nations Throng Start Canada Fair

TORONTO, June 2 (BUP).—Canadian businessmen dusted off the last exhibit at the fifth international trade fair today and threw open the doors to customers from 60 countries.

As the first of an estimated 40,000 world traders from India to Dutch Guiana streamed in they saw on all sides staggering displays of this country's industrial might.

Dr. J. R. M. Van Der Brink, Netherlands minister of economic affairs, officially opened the show after an introduction by C. D. Howe, his Canadian counterpart.

Then customers from home and abroad started roaming through three buildings to inspect the 2,000 exhibits generously displayed over 190,000 square feet of floor space. Four interpreters were on hand to help anyone from anywhere. Special staffs of business girls and other administrative personnel assisted in the settling of contracts, business promotion details and establishing contacts between international traders.

Half the exhibits were of machinery and plant equipment, things like bridges from Canada, a potato digger from Germany, or precision craft tools from Italy.

Longer Hours On U.S. Marts

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—Longer trading hours were adopted by several United States stock markets today.

The New York curb exchange, the Midwest stock exchange at Chicago, the Detroit stock exchange, Pittsburgh stock exchange and the Boston stock exchange broke a pattern that has existed for more than 50 years by extending hours to 3.30 p.m. EDT from the traditional 3 p.m. EDT closing time.

The New York stock exchange has as yet taken no action. Its members have been quarrelling for years over the same question. The latest effort to extend trading hours was recently turned down.

Behind the move to keep the exchanges open longer is the contention by proponents of the move that centres of population and wealth have moved westward in recent years, and the additional time to do business is intended to meet the needs of stock market traders and investors in those areas.

BRIDGE LESSON

—by Oswald Jacoby

West waited patiently for the opponents to get high enough before he doubled. When South finally got to four spades, West doubled with a sense of outrage. The opponents had evidently gone out of their minds, and West felt half sorry for South as he doubled.

West chose his best opening lead, the king of spades. Thereupon South, in the elegant language of bridge players, proceeded to wrap the contract around West's neck.

Declarer won the first trick in dummy with the ace of spades, cashed the ace of clubs, and ruffed a club. He then cashed the ace and king of diamonds and ruffed a diamond in his hand.

When East showed up with only two diamonds, South realized that it would be safe to ruff another diamond in his hand later on. Before he did so, however, he cashed the ace and king of hearts and ruffed a heart in dummy. Then he ruffed a diamond in his own hand thus collecting a total of 10 tricks.

By this time West was left with the queen-jack-nine of trumps and a case of near apoplexy. As South graciously conceded the last three tricks East dryly observed "Nice double, partner!" West's reply is best left to the imagination.

IN TUNE WITH THE TIMES

With TOMMIE WALTERS

GOSSIP FROM VIDEO ALLEY . . . A glimpse of just how keen the rivalry is between the movie industry and TV can be gleaned from the fact that at least one major TV network is closely watching a local New York station's operations. This station is experimentally producing the same play three nights in a row, claiming that this cuts costs considerably and gives the public three cracks at catching the show. While awaiting the results of the experiment, and based on their observations so far, this network is thinking about putting one of their top evening shows on the channels again the following afternoon via kinescope as a matinee.

★ ★ ★

Jim and Marion Jordan are considering an "Amos 'n' Andy" approach to the production of their "Fibber McGee and Molly" show on TV come fall. They're looking for another couple to step into their "Wistful Vista" roles while they handle the production reins—and a slice of the profits. . . . Meanwhile the search is on for another Lucille Ball to star in the video version of her successful radio show, "My Favorite Husband."

Ginger Rogers has applied the term "fiddlesticks" to video rumors that she's trying to squeeze out of her TV deal with C.B.S. because she's afraid it will hurt her booming movie career. She admits her attorneys are going over her contract, which is as thick as a phone directory, with a fine-tooth comb, but says it's just a "matter of sitting down with the executives and discussing problems which have arisen or developed with time." Her interest in TV is still red-hot. She adds "It will be fun for me—a whole new kind of career."

★ ★ ★

Loretta Young is confessing that she's knee-deep in talks with both N.B.C. and C.B.S.—not to mention a smaler company—on the subject of a TV series and that stay-at-homes will be seeing her as a full-fledged video queen. "I'm taking my time, though. There's no sense in going into something half-baked just because I'm enthusiastic about TV."

★ ★ ★

C.B.S. has postponed its plans to launch Zsa Zsa Gabor as a national TV star this summer. But she'll get the full treatment in the fall. Incidentally, they've found the perfect vehicle for her. She will star in a video version of Arlene Francis' famous "Blind Date" show . . . Mona Freeman is denying that a whole series will be built around her first TV film for Revue Productions' "Meet the Little Woman," but says she's wide-open for an acting career on the home channels.

★ ★ ★

Mindy Carson is admitting that she will brave the "copy-cat" taunts and star in a 15-minute song-fest patterned after Dinah Shore's program. Movie offers continue to pour in for Mindy—who resembles Ingrid Bergman—but she won't sign any contract that prohibits TV.

★ ★ ★

TONIGHT ON RADIO . . . "Voice of Firestone" at 5.30 on KOMO. "Theatre of Romance" at 6 on KIRO, followed by "Broadway's My Beat" at 6.30 on same station. "Lone Ranger" at 7 on KJR, or the new quiz show, "Walk a Mile," on KIRO. "Choraliers" at 7.30 on KIRO. Ted Reynolds talks on lacrosse in Victoria on "Canadian Sports Roundup" at 8.30 on Dominion network over CJVI and CJOR, or the "Railroad Hour" at 8.30 on KOMO, followed by the "Telephone Hour" at 9 on KOMO. "Could This Be You?" at 9.30 on KVI.

650,000 STEELWORKERS OUT ON STRIKE

Small Voice of Big Experience

Three-year-old Sheila Benning of 1056 Amphion, warns brother Alvin, 7, of the perils of playing near water-filled excavations. Little girl was pulled from two feet of water in partially-constructed house on Amphion after she fell in Sunday evening. Seven-year-old Maureen Seguin, 1057 Redfern, pulled Sheila out of water—youngster suffered only minor cuts from nail on board. Her mother said today neighbors have tried in past to get excavation boarded up but to no avail. Said Sheila: "I fall right down in water . . . I float." (Times Photo.)

FIERY OBJECT FROM SKY JARS WHITE ROCK PEOPLE

WHITE ROCK, B.C., June 2 (BUP)—A flaming object that roared across the sky and crashed into the Strait of Georgia near White Rock, B.C. Sunday night was believed to have been a meteor by residents of the district.

The object struck the water with an ear-splitting explosion and shattered windows in the area.

Two Great Northern Railway employees in the station at White Rock were thrown from their chairs as the explosion rocked the area.

Residents described it as glowing and moving at tremendous speed.

Four days ago, another object, said to be a meteor, played tag with a T.C.A. plane approaching Vancouver and then plummeted to earth in the Pitt Lake area northeast of the city.

BULLETINS

Truman Order

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—President Truman today ordered the return of the steel industry to private owners after the supreme court declared his seizure action illegal. He directed the action in a letter to Commerce Secretary Charles Sawyer.

Reopening Urged

Fire Chief Frank Briers today asked city council fire warden's committee to reopen Yates Street firehall immediately and spread reduction of 10 men over the four fire halls the city operates.

At the same time Ald. Waldo Skillings, chairman, said Victoria was not understaffed on a population basis. He presented figures showing the city had the same number of firemen per capita as Edmonton, Calgary and Vancouver.

Boston Sox Lead

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—Allie Reynolds knocked Cleveland out of first place in the American League today as he pitched the New York Yankees to a four-hit, 2-to-0 victory. Boston took over the lead by four percentage points on its extra inning win over Chicago.

Supreme Court Hands Down Historic Decision

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled 6 to 3 today that President Truman's seizure of the steel industry was unconstitutional. Within minutes C.I.O. president, Philip Murray, called a country-wide strike of his 650,000 steelworkers.

In a historic decision striking down hard Truman's claim to vast inherent power under the constitution, the high court upheld the ruling of Judge David A. Pine that Truman acted illegally in seizing the steel mills April 8, to head off a strike.

This meant the government must obey Pine's order to turn the mills back to their owners.

It also meant the Truman administration could not carry through its promise of a wage increase to the steel workers while the mills were under government ownership.

Today's high court decision was written by Justice Hugo Black. Chief Justice Fred Vinson and Justice Stanley Reed and Sherman Minto dissented.

Black said for the court majority:

"The President's power to issue the (seizure) order must stem either from an act of Congress or from the Constitution itself.

"There is no statute that expressly authorizes the President to take possession of property as he did here.

"Nor is there any act of Congress to which our attention has been directed from which such a power can fairly be implied."

In issuing his strike call today, Murray at the same time asked the steel companies to resume collective bargaining.

But Murray also made clear that the union still stands on the terms of the wage stabilization board recommendations of a 26-cents-an-hour "package" settlement, plus a union shop arrangement. He said:

"In the absence of a wage agreement our members have no alternative other than to cease work."

Murray authorized local union officers to make "satisfactory arrangements for standby employees to protect the properties of the various companies during the period of stoppage."

Today's decision was of overriding importance in the controversy—as old as the United States republic itself—over how great are the powers of the presidency.

Truman has repeatedly claimed he has inherent power under the constitution to seize a private industry, or take a wide variety of other actions, to safeguard the welfare of the country in time of national emergency.

The court said firmly, however, that this power belongs to Congress and not to the President—either as the civilian head of the government or as commander-in-chief of the armed forces.

War

Canada May Face Critical Lack of Steel

OTTAWA, June 2 (CP)—Canada may face a critical shortage of certain types of steel within 30 days if the United States steel strike continues that long, Dr. H. H. Saunderson Canada's materials co-ordinator, said today.

He was commenting on reports of a country-wide strike in the U.S., called by C.I.O. president, Philip Murray, minutes after the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that President Truman's seizure of the steel industry was unconstitutional.

Dr. Saunderson said that most plants in Canada probably have sufficient stockpiles to continue operations for between 30 and 45 days. If the U.S. strike continues for a month, Canada's whole economy may suffer.

Canada produces about two thirds of her steel needs and imports the other one-third from foreign sources, mostly the U.S. The steel from the U.S. is of a kind not produced in Canada.

Dr. Saunderson said some Canadian plants may continue to get a trickling of steel from Kaiser and other U.S. plants which do not employ C.I.O. workers. But this likely would be only a fraction of what Canadian industry required.

Father Dies In Attempt to Save Daughter

Three drownings and a fatal highway crash marred the week-end on Vancouver Island.

Dead are Ernest Major, Port Alberni, and his three-year-old daughter, Rose Marie, who drowned Sunday when their boat struck a submerged log in the Alberni Canal, and Prestdun Walton McNeil, 25, killed on the highway near Nanaimo.

The body of a 45-year-old woman who died by drowning was found in the Gorge near Lotus Street at 10.15 a.m. Sunday, city police reported. They said it was a case of suicide.

The Alberni tragedy occurred when Major, his wife and daughter were thrown into the water as their boat sank immediately after striking the log.

Mrs. Major saw her husband swimming with the little girl on his shoulders, and carried on to shore. When she arrived the other two had vanished.

Two fishermen, Kelly and William Sport, noticed floating oil drums in the water, and on investigating found the body of the little girl. They took her to shore, where they found Mrs. Major, but were not able to revive the child.

Ballot Contest Count Tuesday

Counting of ballots in the Times alternative voting contest will begin tomorrow.

This will give time for entries posted from up-island points Sunday night to be included for the prize.

Result of the first count will be announced in Wednesday's paper with a description of how it is done. Subsequent counts will be reported the following days.

Saanich Child Assault Victim

A three-year-old Central Saanich girl was indecently assaulted Saturday evening only 100 yards from her home.

Chief V. J. Lawley said today he expects an early arrest.

The child is now resting at home in good condition. She is under the care of Dr. W. H. Roberts of Sidney.

Chief Lawley said the offense occurred between 7.30 and 8 p.m in bushes near the child's home.

P.O.W.'s MUST OBEY ORDERS

U.S. Tanks, Troops Take Over on Koje

KOJE ISLAND, Korea, June 2 (AP)—United States tanks and infantrymen today battered down and burned Communist flags and banners in two Red prisoner-of-war compounds, and a South Korean officer shot and wounded a P.O.W. for taunting him.

The United Nations' supreme commander, Gen. Mark Clark, visited this riotous island and declared: "The maximum amount of force necessary will be used to make rebellious prisoners obey orders." He said Communist truce negotiators at Panmunjom had "directed the uprising here and the disobedience" of P.O.W.'s.

The prisoner was shot behind the double barbed-wire of compound 60, which holds some 20 P.O.W.'s accused of war crimes.

Fellow-prisoners carried him, bleeding, into a tin shack inside the compound. U.S. doctors demanded he be given up for medical care.

In answer the Reds sang songs and shouted anti-American slogans under the urging of a cheer leader.

The shooting took place just after the inmates of compound 60, smallest of the 17 occupied enclosures of Koje, had stoned and shouted insults at a passing column of South Korean soldiers.

Eye-witnesses said the South Korean officer, goaded beyond control, fired three shots from a .45-calibre pistol. One bullet hit the P.O.W. in the leg.

The compound returned to normal 20 minutes later. The prisoners still held their wounded comrade. The U.S. medical crew left.

Vancouver Stocks Closing Prices

Trading slowed at Vancouver in the final session today and stocks lost some earlier gains towards the close.

Western oil issues, actively traded at the start, slipped back near the finish.

Base metals were weaker. Industrials eased fractionally.

VICTORIA SOCCERDOM KEYED UP

Wizardry Against Island Stars

Things were so busy at the ticket office for tonight's international soccer match between Tottenham Hotspurs and Vancouver Island All-Stars, they quit answering the phone after lunch.

However, up until that time, indications pointed to a crowd of better than 4,000 and possibly 5,000 for the game.

Publicity director Don Gray reported early this morning that pre-game sales were well up over last year when 3,000 saw the All-Stars upset Fulham, 1-0.

Later in the morning a long lineup was seen outside the box office and brisk sales were in progress. The same picture was in evidence shortly after lunch.

Local officials have announced that ticket wickets at Athletic Park will be open at 6 tonight to enable patrons to secure seats well in advance of the starting time of 7 o'clock.

Tottenham, naturally is a prohibitive favorite to defeat the All-Stars and have been described in nothing but superlatives since they began their 10-game Canadian tour 10 days ago.

All-Star manager Dave Turner who saw the 'Spurs defeat the mainland All-Stars, 9-2, in Vancouver Saturday, says it is one of the greatest teams he has ever seen.

Local soccer commissioner Pat Mulcahy says "they have revolutionized the game of football. I never saw anything like it. They were simply marvellous."

The Tottenham team arrived in the city Sunday afternoon and following dinner were taken on a tour of points of interest in and about the city by local football officials.

For all but one, Les Medley, it is their first visit to Canada.

Medley was with the R.A.F. in Canada during the Second World War
